RACE WAR RENEWED—SITUATION NOW WELL IN HAND

Shantung Provision Not Proposed By President

ONE MAN IS KILLED AND SEVERAL SEVERELY INJURED, 2,000 SOLDIERS ON GUARD

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—Although there was sporadic firing of fire-arms in some of the negro districts until early this morning, the major casualties in last night's clashes between whites and negroes consisted of only one white man killed and another probably fatally wounded. Scores were injured in varying degrees as a result of blows of fists, clubs and stones and the wielding of knives, but in none of these cases were the wounds expected to be fatal.

The man killed last night, Isaac B. Hathfinger, and the seriously wounded man, Benjamin Belmont, both members of the defense guard, were shot down on the street by a negro while doing duty in one of the black districts.

Despite the fact the capital was an armed camp, the fourth night of the race warfare was less violent than Monday when four persons were killed outright and nearly a dozen seriously hurt. Feeling, which was inflamed by reported attacks upon whites by negroes throughout the day, was no less bitter, but an all night rain and the presence of 2,000 heavily armed soldiers, sailors and marines doing duty with the 700 police and several hundred home defense guards acted as a deterrent upon any attempt at organized mob violence.

The closing of pool rooms, moving picture houses and other places where crowds of negroes might be expected to gather and the policy of the police and military to keep everybody moving, enabled the authorities to keep the situation well in hand.

Mooney Did Not Receive Fair Deal

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—Thomas J. Mooney did not receive full justice in his trial at San Francisco for alleged connection with the preparedness day bomb explosion, according to a report of John B. Densmore, former special agent of the department of Justice, who investigated the case for the government. The report dated November 1, 1918, was submitted to the house today in response to a resolution.

"The plain truth is," the report said, "that there is nothing about the case to produce a feeling of confidence that the dignity and majesty of the law have been upheld.

"There is nowhere anything resembling consistency, the effort being patchwork of incongruous makeshift and often of desperate expediency."

ENGLAND AND FRANCE BOUND BY AGREEMENT WITH JAP GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—Inquiry at the White House today concerning published reports that the Shantung provision of the peace treaty was President Wilson's personal solution of the problem brought neither confirmation nor denial and only the statement that no comment would be made. Senators who have discussed the Shantung provision with the president stated, however, that they had not been given to understand that the president proposed the Shantung provision as a solution of the problem but that he had found himself unable to convert the Japanese delegates to any other view.

The senators said they had been told that Premiers Clemenceau and Lloyd George represented to the president that they were bound by the agreements of their governments with Japan and that if the Japanese statesmen were to be converted to any other views, the president himself would have to undertake the attempt. It was futile, the senators said, they were told.

Senators talking out the White House today were the last on the original list of 15 selected by the president, but invitations for the other Republican senators to call at the White House will go forward from day to day, it being the president's desire to confer with all of them before he starts on his tour of the country.

President Wilson has been devoting some of his time recently to getting together documents used by the American peace delegation at Paris, which have been asked for by the senate in its consideration of the treaty.

While the foreign relations committee has not yet reached a decision as to calling members of the American delegation for examination on features of the treaty, it is probable that Mr. Lansing will be summoned after the committee completes the reading of the text, which was continued today.

Conferences with Republican senators on the peace treaty and the League of Nations' covenant were continued today by President Wilson. Senators on the visiting list were Page, Vermont; Sterling, South Dakota; McLean, Connecticut, and Newberry, Michigan.

Mr. Wilson's condition continued to improve today and it was expected that within a few days he would have entirely recovered from the effects of an attack of intestinal trouble. The president, however, still is weak and for that reason held conferences today in his study in the White House instead of in the executive offices.

Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, was ready to speak in the senate in support of the league. No other notices had been given for the day, although it was considered likely a general debate might develop on some feature of the treaty.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—Senator Page, Republican, of Vermont, frankly outlined his objections to the peace treaty to President Wilson at the White House today, and told the president he would not approve it. Beyond this statement, Senator Page would not discuss the conference.

Senator Sterling, of South Dakota, another White House caller, said neither he nor the president mentioned the Shantung settlement. They discussed Article X of the League of Nations' covenant, referring to protection of nations against "external aggression," and the clause relating to the withdrawal of nations from the league.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—The League of Nations was supported in the senate today by Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, as one of the greatest forward steps in the nation's history. Most of the opposition, he asserted, came from "reactionaries" of the same school as those who opposed the federal constitution, and those who later handicapped the growth and development of the country.

"There have always been reactionaries in our country," said the Tennessee senator, "and there have always been progressives. There have always been forward-looking men and backward-looking men. There have always been men who looked to precedents and to the past and men who looked to the future. If the reactionaries had had their way in the beginning of our government, we probably would not have had a republic. If they had had their way, the republic would never have been enlarged."

FOREST FIRES SWEEPING ON

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—Congress was asked today by Secretary Lane for a special appropriation of $500,000 to fight forest fires in Montana, Idaho and Washington. Latest reports from Idaho, he said, declare the fires "cannot be extinguished save by a heavy rain, of which there is no immediate prospect."

SPOKANE, WASH., July 23.—Twenty-five hundred forestry service men, and hundreds of men in the employ of timber protective associations have failed to hold in check serious forest fires which were raging today, many of them far out of bounds, in northern Idaho and western and central Montana.

Four Montana towns—Thompson Falls, county seat of Sanders county, St. Regis, on the Coeur D'Alene branch of the Northern Pacific Railway; Henderson, near St. Regis, and Muldoon, a pioneer mining camp near Lewistown—were menaced seriously by the flames. The blaze is within a mile and a quarter of Thompson Falls and citizens, ranchers and forest service employes were combatting it.

A serious blaze was spreading over approximately 25,000 acres in the Madison National Forest.

Serious conflagrations were raging almost unchecked in the Kaniksu and Pend O'Reille forests on the extreme northern part of the Idaho Pan Handle in the Coeur D'Alene forest, just to the south. A fire between Sand Point and Hope, Idaho, had swept over forty square miles and destroyed millions of feet of pine timber.

On seeing her sister still in the path of the locomotive, she attempted to save her and both were run down.

U. S. WILL SIGN TREATIES

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—The United States will sign the treaties with Bulgaria and Turkey, it was announced today at the state department.

Although the United States never has been actually at war with Bulgaria and Turkey, it will sign the treaties to show its concurrence in the terms imposed upon these allies of Germany and Austria.

Like those with the Teutonic powers, the treaties change boundary lines and create new nations, some of which, particularly Armenia, probably will ask that the United States act as mandatory for them under the League of Nations' covenant.

CHICAGO, July 23.—The basis for the cost of lard, bacon and pork rose to a new record today. Live hogs this morning were selling at $23.35 a hundred weight as against $23.00 yesterday. Until today, $23.00 was the highest price ever reached.

Decrease in the number of arrivals of hogs is the reason given for the new record-breaking advance of prices.

PARIS, FRANCE, July 23.—Firing took place Monday afternoon in Berlin between troops and processions of strikers carrying red flags, in various parts of the city, according to a Havas dispatch from Berlin under Monday's date.

„Tiger Of France" Emerges Victorious In The Test Vote

PARIS, July 23.—(Havas)—Premier Clemenceau, who won for his cabinet a vote of confidence late yesterday in the chamber of deputies, emerged from the conflict stronger than the test vote showed.

The final vote of confidence on a resolution by Deputy Simian, approving the government's declaration of policy, showed confidence in the government by 289 to 176, a majority of 113. The first vote, which was on a demand for priority for the resolution of Deputy Chaumet, gave the premier a majority of 91, the resolution being defeated 272 to 181.

M. Chaumet's resolution, for which priority was asked, was on the high cost of living. Priority for it was sought over the resolution of Deputy Augagneur, which was adopted Friday by a majority of 11, the government being in the minority. It was the Augagneur resolution that resulted in the resignation of M. Boret, the former food minister, now replaced by Joseph J. B. E. Noulens.

M. Clemenceau won applause even from the opposition when he followed his ministers to the Tribune and made points in his address that caused some of his leading opponents to laugh at members of their own party. To console himself for the criticisms of his administration, the premier said:

"I have merely to think of those that will be levelled at my successor."

The premier described the situation of the government since the armistice.

"We are witnessing the liquidation of the world's greatest catastrophe," he said. "It was impossible after five years of barbarous warfare for everything to be returned to order at the moment of the signing of the peace treaty."

He declared he had too much pride to reply to M. Chaumet who accused him of not having represented France well at the peace conference.

"I gave everything to that task," he said, "up to the limit of my strength. The chamber will have to discuss the peace treaty thoroughly. It was well, as the country will judge my work."

"On the morrow of the ratification of peace," he added, "we will see that the electorate is enabled to express itself."

The premier concluded with an attempt to show the difficulties of his task, which, he said, he had the consciousness of having done well.

France Offers To Buy U. S. Military Property At 1-5 Original Cost

PARIS, Tuesday, July 22.—(By the Associated Press)—France will offer to take over American military property in France, consisting mainly of docks, railways and real estate, at one-fifth of its cost to the Americans, according to a statement given to the Associated Press today by Louis Morel, under-secretary of state for the liquidation of stocks. M. Morel said that what seemed to be a low offer in reality is liberal because much of the military construction will be of little value in peace time and much of the property such as railway equipment was designed for use different from that required for French operations. Foods and other movable stores, it was said, probably will be returned to the United States.

There still are 70,000 enlisted men of the reserve force on duty, most of them aboard transports. They will be released as rapidly as permits can be obtained to take their places. It is expected all of the reserve officers and men remaining in the service will be released within two months.

Enjoy Reunion Here

Just a touch of that fellowship one hears of which blossomed so beautifully in the trenches, was shown in Portsmouth, Tuesday, when some 40 soldiers from a troop train were left in the city to await the late train for Cincinnati, and an incoming train for drew into the depot carrying a detachment of men who were former comrades in France and had not been seen since. The men literally fell on each other's necks. Their greetings were warm with the warmth developed in facing death together.

Many of the canteen workers were deeply moved as the boys unaffectedly expressed their joy at seeing each other. They had been comrades in the war and in transportation had lost sight of each other.

Over 200 soldiers, sailors and marines were served at the canteen yesterday; 51 men who were wounded and unable to be off the train were served with lunches carried into the cars by canteen workers.

Secure Option For New Auditorium Which May Go Up On Gallia Street

That Portsmouth may shortly have a first class Auditorium is now practically assured, for plans are actually under way for the erection of such a building. It will be located at Gallia and Bond streets and when completed will be one of Portsmouth's most attractive amusement centers in Southern Ohio, the promoters say.

This much needed hall is being financed by the Portsmouth Real Estate company. It was through the efforts of the company's president, S. S. Wortley, Jr., that the two beautiful amusement houses in Chillicothe, the Chillicothe Auditorium and the Sherman Theatre, were erected there.

Mr. Wortley today said that he had had this building in mind for some time and had only been held up by the difficulty in getting a suitable location. The Chillicothe Auditorium, he said, has been such a wonderful success that he felt sure that the Portsmouth public would support this proposition for the Auditorium would undoubtedly be one of the greatest successes Portsmouth has ever seen. A really modern building such as the company plans to build is sure to be an enormous success from an investment point of view, Mr. Wortley said.

DeVoss and Donaldson, local architects are preparing plans and specifications and several innovations in Auditorium construction will be introduced. The dance floor will be of the finest maple wood and the interior decorations will be unusually attractive and artistic.

Mr. Wortley stated today that he had secured an option on L. P. Haldeman's property at Gallia and Bond streets and it would make an ideal location for the proposed Auditorium.

Special Service

A special service will be held at the Franklin Avenue M. E. church this evening. Arrangements have been made to have several feature musical numbers by a quartet from the Pleasant Green Baptist church tonight. All are invited to attend this service.

Hip Broken

Mary Stumbo, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stumbo, of 1112 Tenth street, is suffering with a broken right hip sustained several days ago in a fall at her home. Dr. J. W. Fitch reduced the fracture, an X-ray being taken to determine the seriousness of the injury.

Service Men To Organize

Arrangements are being made for a mass meeting of returned service men which will be held in the Public Library basement next Monday evening.

All Scioto county service men, soldiers, sailors and marines are urged to attend the meeting as an organization of a Post of the American Legion will be formed at this time. An effort is being made to have Major Johnson, of Athens, come here for that evening for an address. A name will also be selected.

The name of W. L. Dickey Post has been suggested for the local post. Hundreds of Scioto county boys have signed petitions favoring the organization of a post of the American Legion here.

ALL SAINTS' GIRL SCOUTS ENJOY HIKE IN THE KENTUCKY HILLS

The Girl Scouts of All Saint's church enjoyed a hike into the hills of Kentucky yesterday, taking, as planned, both their dinners and suppers on the Kentucky shore.

Leaving the Ohio side shortly after eight o'clock, they hiked at once to a place where they could get their dinners and rest during the heat of the day. The Scout Executive showed them how to cook bacon and potatoes without cooking utensils, and much to the girls' surprise, they were found to taste good.

Leaving their camp in the afternoon, they crossed the hills to the Ohio river, and as they had brought their bathing suits along, the leader selected a spot where the current was sluggish and there was no danger and allowed them to go in swimming before supper.

It was intended to catch the 7:05 p. m. boat to Portsmouth, but owing to some slight delay on the part of the girls, the boat was missed, and they were obliged to take the next boat, which was not till eight o'clock.

It was a tired and happy group of girls that separated that night, and it was the opinion of all that they had had "a thundering good time."

Chautauqua Tent Is Crowded By Appreciative Audiences

Hundreds of Portsmouth people crowding the Redpath Chautauqua tent Tuesday smiled with pride and appreciation of the praise given the old home town by the artists who appeared on the program, afternoon and evening.

TODAY'S PROGRAM

Drama: "The Melting Pot."

The afternoon performance begins at 3 o'clock, and the evening's attraction begins at eight o'clock.

TOMORROW'S PROGRAM
Morning
Children's Hour.
Lecture.
Afternoon
Musical Prelude—MacDermid Company.
Children's Hour.
Lecture.
Evening
Concert—MME. SIBYL SAMMIS—MacDERMID.

It is a treat for the children to be within hailing distance of little Miss Edna Gail—the story girl. After her public introduction on the Chautauqua platform Tuesday night, her reputation has been made and the seal of approval placed upon it by the grown-ups who now constitute themselves boosters of her work with the children. "Just to be different", the story lady isn't going to have the time honored pageant—principally because it has happened so often before. But each day the stories will be told to lend enchantment to the tale, costumes of the period in which the story runs will be worn. It is even said that some of the stories will be acted out! Whoops, my dear!

Knight MacGregor, the Scotchman with the wonderful voice was ill on leaving his train in the afternoon and unable to appear for this afternoon program but in the evening he sang and every heart in the audience sang with him. He has the quality of radiating enjoyment as he sings.

Frank M. Mulholland is not a "smile when life flows along like a song" man, he smiles anyhow and despite the fact that he witnessed most of the horrors of war. And he calculates the smile of the American army which spread from the soldier boy's face on down the line through the entire American army and was the index of their courage and good fellowship.

Mr. Mulholland's lecture was on the "Paths of the Greatest Profit." When finished and the big tent emptied, every one left all the better for the inspirant urge planted in him to serve or to boost or to cast bread on the waters and despite the seriousness of the new resolve most every one was smiling.

Prefers The American Soldiers

"Every American soldier thought he could whip the German army, and when those boys come back and get organized with civilian life again they will run this country," prophesied Mr. Mulholland. "Its up to us to get in step with them and catch their wonderful enthusiasm."

In closing, Mr. Mulholland said he supposed the audience had already caught the meaning of his lecture and had discovered that service is the coin in which the debt of humanity is paid. Then he made a wonderful plea for good fellowship and for the whole-hearted booster. Taking as text "Be Good For Something" and quoting Ella Wheeler Wilcox's poem of those who lift and those who learn, Mr. Mulholland, inspired his audience to forge new paths of the greatest profit.

"Reduce all friction to a point of ease, smile," said he losing his own contagious smile.

"Take the modern conception of good fellowship," urged Mr. Mulholland and he painted the picture of Lincoln in the home of a Confederate general after the war, playing with the General's children.

While in France, Mulholland saw a slightly built man on a railway platform tussling with a box of supplies for refugees and learning his name was Sherman and that he was a grandson of the great American General, he went over and talked to him.

"What are you trying to do there?" asked Mulholland.

"Why sir, I'm trying to put a little heaven into what my grandfather said was all hell, sir."

Then Mr. Mulholland sketched the scenes that made heaven out of the war'd war. He spoke of Dr. Ladd, of Boston, tending the orphaned children of France; and of Mrs. Ladd making life masks for soldiers who were so badly disfigured by wounds that they hesitated to return to their families.

Optimism was the keynote of Mulholland's address and the bigger brotherhood was the expression of his beliefs. He was enthusiastically enjoyed last night. Knight MacGregor sang "Skipmates 'o Mine," and "Chip of the Old Block," two rollicking pieces much enjoyed by the audience, preluding the lecture.

Some of Harry Lauder's favorite songs were rendered with much of the Scotch feeling. The more one hears Knight MacGregor the more one becomes enamoured of his wonderful voice and is satisfied to listen to it through hours and hours if only that could ever happen.

With Knight MacGregor, yesterday was Miss Edna Wallace, his charming accompanist, who was a decided asset in the entertainment, both afternoon and evening.

Miss Clarissa Harrold gave "The Country Cousin" which is the story of a genuine American girl and is simply full of Americanism. In it she gave a delightful characterization of the "country cousin," and a splendid picture of the "rising" boy aspiring to the presidency. The picture, or rather caricature of the New York society girl, was very well done. The difference in the two characters as exemplified by Miss Harrold, were as evident as the differences between New York City and Centerville, O., the town where the play was laid. Miss Harrold who has an admirable stage presence, was quite captivating in the readings she gave as a prelude to her more serious reading.

She said that so often Chautauqua people are asked what they do to pass away the time on the train and in explanation she gave a clever reading of a poem composed by a Chautauqua traveler on train riding. It rhymed the glaring advertisements seen along every railroad across the country. The author even threatened that on Judgment Day some firms would ask for advertising space.

The Markets

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 23—Many extraordinary gains were recorded at the buoyant opening of today's stock market, the advance resulting in a further rout of the shorts. Crucible Steels led at an initial rise of 4½ points, which was soon extended to 6. Bethlehem Steel gained 2 and oils, notably Royal Dutch, local and foreign, which sold ex-dividend and ex-rights, also were very active and strong. The movement embraced equipments, motors, coppers, shippings, leathers and textiles, but rails lagged, except for the firmness of low grade shares.

The hopeful view of Judge Gary regarding steel trade conditions and word from Washington that the Mexican government intends to authorize the temporarily boring of wells formed the basis of much of the morning's extensive operations. Among steels and equipments gains were ½ to 2½ points with 1 to 3 for leading petroleums; in the motor groups some more substantial gains were scored, shippings, leathers and tobaccos demanding substantially with food shares. Investment rails also were strong. Call money was from 6 to 6½ percent.

The short interest was again driven to cover in today's active stock market specialties leading the further general advance at gross gains of 3 to 17 points. Sales approximated 1,550,000 shares.

The closing was strong.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO

CHICAGO, July 23—Higher prices for corn today accompanied higher prices of hogs. December, the principal active delivery of corn, rose to the top most level yet this season. The market closed nervous, 1¢ net lower to 1¾ advance, with September 1.91⅞ to 1.91¾ and December 1.66½ to 1.66⅝.

Oats went upward with corn. However, after opening ⅛c to 1c higher, including September at 81⅞ to 82⅜, the market tended to sag.

Provisions scored a material advance all around owing to the strength of hogs and corn.

Some buying of lard appeared to be for export account.

MUST COMPLETE PROTESTED GAME

NEW YORK, July 23.—President John A. Heydler, of the National League, announced today a revised finding on the protested Pittsburgh-Cincinnati game of July 6, whereby only the uncompleted three innings of the contest will be played. Under this ruling it will not be necessary to replay the entire game as was originally ordered.

In accordance with this ruling the Cincinnati and Pittsburgh clubs are directed to start their next scheduled game at Cincinnati at least one half hour earlier that usual and "within fifteen minutes of the completion of this game place on the field their respective teams as nearly as possible in line-up as in the uncompleted game of July 6."

"They will start with the seventh inning with the score 2 to 0 in favor of Cincinnati and will play out the game to its legal termination," said Mr. Heydler's statement. "The first batsman for Pittsburgh will be No. 3 in the box score, Nicholson; for Cincinnati, No. 8, Wingo, as designated by the records of the official box score."

NAILED U. S. COLORS ON MOUNT HOOD

PORTLAND, ORE, July 23.—The shades of night were falling fast when Sergeant E. L. Todd, of the United States Marines, finished a climb of 11225 feet up Mount Hood, near here, and nailed the colors of the marines to a building that crowns the summit.

It took the sergeant just seven hours to make his way through a blizzard to the highest peak in Oregon. The flag he carried was a four-by-ten foot standard, and his pack was loaded down with a hammer, nails, a blanket, and provisions for the journey.

Todd was once a great admirer of Longfellow. He says now that the New England poet had the wrong dope when he wrote "Excelsior."

WALLACE REID IS A REAL SPEED KING IN "THE ROARING ROAD"

Popular Paramount Star Breaks Automobile Records in His Latest Photoplay

In his new Paramount picture, "The Roaring Road," which will be shown at the Lyric Theatre Friday and Saturday, Wallace Reid blossoms out as a speed king. During the filming of the scenes, Mr. Reid himself drove his racing car, taking all kinds of chances and driving at incredible speed, to secure the last word in realism.

Most of the race scenes for the picture were filmed on the famous Santa Monica race course, over which numerous road races have been contested by some of the world's most famous drivers.

There is one especially dangerous curve in this course, known as "death curve," and it is notorious for the number of accidents which have occurred there. In one scene of the picture Mr. Reid rounds this curve with perfect ease and accuracy of control, and at the same time, it is said, breaking the record for speed in rounding the curve which had been established and broken many times by various famous speed kings. Truly, this shows remarkable skill in the handling of a speeding automobile.

The picture was directed by James Cruze, the well-known actor and director, from a series of stories written by Byron Morgan, which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post. The scenario was written by Marion Fairfax. Ann Little, Theodore Roberts, Guy Oliver and C. H. Geldart round out the cast.

SHIRLEY MASON IN FINE NEW PICTURE

"The Winning Girl" Splendid Vehicle for Star

Petite, pretty and talented, Shirley Mason will appear at the Lyric theatre tomorrow in "The Winning Girl," her first California-made Paramount picture, the story by George Weston, from a scenario by Will M. Ritchey. Miss Mason has won the hearts of all playgoers by her wonderfully convincing work on stage and screen, and in this production she is said to have a delightful starring vehicle.

The story itself, which appeared first in The Saturday Evening Post, is one of those human interest tales that win by their very naturalness, while the comedy characterizations and incidents with which it is garnished are excellent.

Niles Welch, one of the best known young actors of the screen world, appears in support of the tiny star. He is a manly, handsome and artistic player. The other members of the cast are all well chosen. Among them appears the name of Theodore Roberts, whose work in Paramount and Artcraft pictures is well known. Robert G. Vignola was the director.

A new Mack Sennett comedy, "Her First Mistake," is an added attraction.

At The Arcana Tonight

Tonight there are two dandy pictures on the program. There is a serial and then a screaming Fatty Arbuckle comedy. "Monster or Man" is the title of chapter eight of "The Silent Mystery" the serial written by Francis Ford and featuring Mae Gaston and Rosemary Theby. "He Did and He Didn't is the title of the Fatty Arbuckle comedy. He is starring with Mabel Normand and this pair can certainly produce the laughs.

At The Lincoln Tonight

Tonight Marie Walcamp is here again in the big thrilling serial "The Red Glove" produced by Universal. Marie Walcamp is appearing at her best in this chapter play of one exciting scene following another. See this chapter play every Wednesday. A screaming L-Ko comedy will close the splendid program. It is one big laugh from the start to finish. Don't miss the chance to laugh at this number.

Don't Fail To See "Choosing A Wife", One Of The Big Sensational Pictures of the Year At The Columbia Tomorrow and Friday

Usually wedding bells pealing for her marriage are the most joyous sound a woman ever hears, but in "Choosing A Wife," the First National attraction to be shown at the Columbia tomorrow and Friday, the case is far different.

Hearing the chimes, which are being rehearsed for her marriage, Dorothy Blossom realizes that they are mocking her in the most bitter way, for she has just been told that the man she thought desired to wed her in reality had intended the letter of proposal, which she received, for another.

So, the bells still ringing, she bows her head in deepest humiliation, burning beneath the shame that the man to whom she had given her love intended his for another, and feeling an impotent anger against her niece, the young girl whom the man really loves.

This is but one of the many scenes laid close to the heart of woman, and touching problems vital to men which are to be found in "Choosing A Wife."

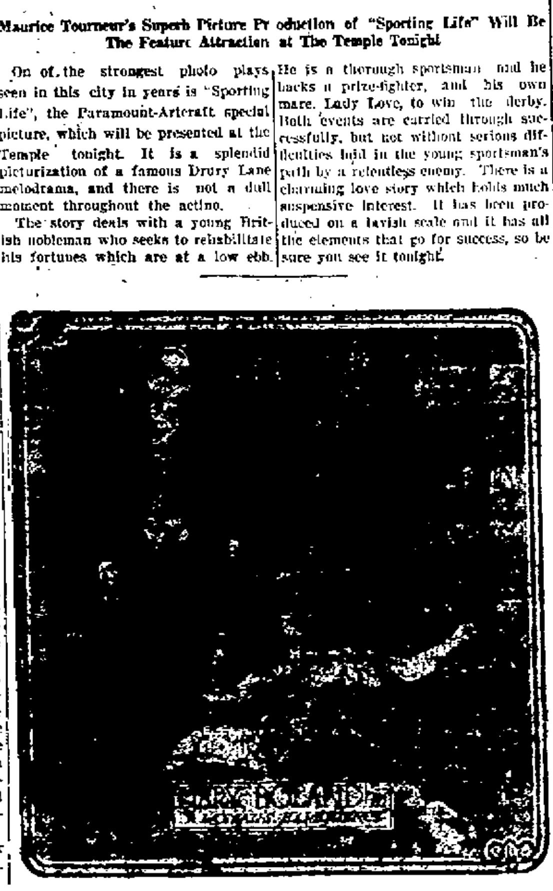

The question of whether an elderly man of means and vigorous health should seek a young girl in the first blush of beauty, or a woman of maturity and ripened mentality for his wife is surprisingly treated in "Choosing A Wife."

Maurice Tourneur's Superb Picture Production of "Sporting Life" Will Be The Feature Attraction at The Temple Tonight

On of the strongest photo plays seen in this city in years is "Sporting Life", the Paramount-Artcraft special picture, which will be presented at the Temple tonight. It is a splendid picturization of a famous Drury Lane melodrama, and there is not a dull moment throughout the acting.

The story deals with a young British nobleman who seeks to rehabilitate his fortunes which are at a low ebb. He is a thorough sportsman and he backs a prize-fighter, and his own mare, Lady Love, to win the derby. Both events are carried through successfully, but not without serious difficulties laid in the young sportsman's path by a relentless enemy. There is a charming love story which holds much suspensive interest. It has been produced on a lavish scale and it has all the elements that go for success, so be sure you see it tonight.

Paul M. Potter's Greatest Success, "A Woman's Experience." Starring Beautiful Mary Boland—At The Exhibit Tonight—The Most Unusual Play of the Hour

"A Woman's Experience," Paul M. Potter's great dramatic masterpiece, featuring the beautiful emotional star, Mary Boland, the most unusual play of the hour, depicting the intrigues, loves, sorrows and scandals of married life in New York society, will be the attraction to be presented at the Exhibit Theatre tonight. The story, even though it deals with the problems of married life in exclusive society, is unlike any story you have ever seen or read, and in its development presents many new and thrilling situations. Although intensely dramatic at times, the delightful romance and the search for happiness which is ultimately found has a charm and interest that will delight you and send you away happy. It is truly one of the very great plays of the screen and we earnestly urge you to avail yourself of the opportunity of seeing this good picture. Antonio Moreno will also be here tonight in another installment of Vitagraph's big snow serial, "The Perils of Thunder Mountain."

Madlaine Traverse in "The Love That Dares," a Picture For Every Husband and Wife In Portsmouth At The Exhibit Tomorrow—Also Big V Comedy

Is your love the kind that dares? How far would you go to prove it when the only person you loved in the world depended on that love for existence? Would you make any sacrifice that that person might go on living? These are the questions raised in the latest Wm. Fox picture, "The Love That Dares," starring the beautiful Madlaine Traverse which will be shown at the Exhibit Theatre tomorrow. As Olive Risdon, Miss Traverse appears as the woman who dares face a hell on earth that her husband may succeed. The whole story is powerfully told in the five acts of this great picture. Five of the strongest reels of photo-dramatic entertainment that it has ever been our pleasure to offer. Don't fail to see it tomorrow. In addition to this picture we will also show "Damsels and Dandies," the latest Big V comedy starring the two acrobatic funsters, Montgomery and Rock.

Big Special Feature Production at the Lincoln Tomorrow

"Why I Would Not Marry" is a big special feature production showing the love trials of the most beautiful woman on earth.

A dozen problems in which every woman is vitally interested are pictured, lived through and answered in the most powerful marriage play of the day, "Why I Would Not Marry," a William Fox morality production, which will be shown at the Lincoln Theatre tomorrow (Thursday) for a one day's engagement.

How a woman can avoid matrimonial pitfalls, delve into the future of life, select the right man to make her married life ideally happy, master the laws of beauty and good health—all these problems are solved logically and entertainingly in this startling photo-drama.

Beginning Early.

Dorothy, who is seven, must have heard some elder lamenting the lost days of youth. After a hasty breakfast, curtailed by a disposition to sleep late of mornings with barely time enough to reach school and studies before the tardy bell, she saw her younger sister and brother skipping off to a long May day's enjoyment in the big yard and exclaimed: "Oh, for the days of five!"

Dainty Billie Burke's "In Pursuit of Polly," Scores Decisive Hit at the Strand Tonight

If you were wavering between two men, both of whom professed to love you, and neither of whom you were able to pick for your future husband, what course would you pursue to make up your mind as to your choice? This was the problem that confronted Polly Marsden, the beautiful daughter of a New York broker, who was loved simultaneously by a dreamy poet and a dignified broker. Polly attempted the expedient of having her suitors race after her, she being given an hour's start in an automobile, the understanding being that the first man who caught her might claim her as his bride. This is the beginning of most unusual adventures, many of them filled with delicious humor, others being absorbingly dramatic. How she is arrested for espionage and how her race comes to an unexpected end, are told in a series of scenes that will surely delight you to the utmost. A Big V comedy rounds out this meritable show.

The refund of $1.75 represent an overpayent to the Burroughs Adding Machine Company, through warrant No. 1695 said amount being refunded March 15, 1917.

In accordance with a finding as set forth in the report of April 2, 1917 the mayor withheld from the fines in state cases collected in March, 1917, the sum of $62.00 which amount was deposited to the credit of the general fund as a refund for amount paid from said fund for state criminal dockets of the mayor's court.

Through resolutions of council there was transferred to the general fund for the purpose of reimbursing said fund for moneys expended in legal advertising and printing bonds, the following amounts:

The source of the receipts of the general fund other than above set forth are indicated by the classification in the foregoing financial statment.

The amount expended under justice's courts represents cost of civil dockets, one each for the courts of justices Byron and Finney.

June 18, 1917, there was paid to W. J. Meyer and E. C. Millar, the sum of $300.00 as part payment for legal services in the case of John H. McGowan Co. vs City of Portsmouth. This amount was paid from the appropriation "Damages"; it should have been paid from the appropriation "Special Counsel" under solicitor.

Through action of the council Joseph P. Coates was employed to codify the general ordinances of the city for the stipulated amount of $1,000.00 for which an appropriation was made January 3, 1917. Of said amount there was paid to Mr. Coates during 1917, subsequent to March 1st, $770.00 and to Mary Hermann, as stenographer for Mr. Coates, and which applied on his contract price, $160.00.

On April 20, 1917, there was paid to Samuel P. Baird, $50.00, Phil S. Wickerham, $25.00 and May 9, 1917, George S. Wilhelm, $12.00, the same being for professional engineering services in the case of Rufus Wilson vs. the city, the said employment being had on the order of the solicitor. These items should have been paid from a special appropriation under solicitor as the expenditures were created on account of his department.

November 18, 1916, a four months certificate of indebtedness was issued in anticipation of the general revenue for the general fund in the amount of $3,000.00, and sold to the Portsmouth Banking Co., and December 6, 1916, a like certificate was issued in the amount of $1000.00, and sold to the First National Bank. These certificates were paid March 18, and April 26, 1917, respectively, with interest in the amounts of $50.00 and $16.67.

In accordance with resolution No. 2502, there was transferred February 28, 1918, $1.24 from the general fund to the Water Front Improvement fund for the purpose of eliminating an overdraft in said fund.

In this connection it might be well to note that council under the provisions of Section [illegible], General Code, can only make transfers between funds raised by taxation upon all real and personal property of the corporation, and [illegible] of the fund from which the transfer is to be made [illegible] or abandoned.

Aside from the [illegible] expenditures from the general fund are indicated by [illegible].

The records of [illegible] the following duplicate payments: July 11, 1917, [illegible] Book Store, 4 receipt books, Warrant No. 4395 $.70.

Through warrant No. [illegible] issued September 29, 1917, the foregoing item was [illegible] a duplicate payment in the amount of fifty cents. [illegible] the [illegible] Book Store refunded the said amount to the city [illegible] in the treasury through paysin order No. 173.

ERRONEOUS AND ILLEGAL PAYMENTS

November 20, 1917, [illegible] was paid to Kah-Patterson Printing Co., $3.75 for meter [illegible] for the water works department. This amount should have been paid from the water works fund instead of the general fund. The [illegible] a transfer will be made from the water works [illegible] to the general fund to correct said erroneous payment.

July 11, 1917, G. W. [illegible] Company tendered an invoice for one perfected model clock writer in the amount of $[illegible], with a credit allowance of $6.00 for old [illegible] warrant No. 4440 issued July 31, 1917, said company was paid $[illegible]. The books would indicate that the old protectograph was traded in or exchanged on the clock writer.

The Attorney General has held that no property of the city can be bartered or exchanged and that if property is to be disposed of it must be for a cash consideration and the proceeds deposited in the treasury. No finding is returned at this time on said account but if it is disclosed in future audits that there has been a repetition of such practice the officer responsible will be held liable for the amount thereof.

January 16, 1918, the council passed ordinance No. 2485 which was approved by the mayor on the date passed, providing that the mayor shall appoint a clerk whose salary shall be $1,080.00 per annum payable monthly; that the auditor shall appoint one clerk whose salary should be $1,080.00 per annum, payable monthly, and one clerk whose salary shall be $900.00 per annum, payable monthly.

Section IV of the ordinance provides:

"This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law."

The effect of the ordinance in question was to increase the salary of the mayor's clerk from $780.00 to $1,080.0 per annum, the salary of one of the auditor's clerks from $900.00 to $1,080.00 per annum, and the other clerk of the auditor from $720.00 to $900.00 per annum.

At the time of the passage of the ordinance Harry B. Johnson was the mayor's clerk, Miss Nancy Spencer the auditor's first clerk, and Miss Mary Hermann the auditor's second clerk.

The records of the city auditor indicate that the said employes were paid compensation as if ordinance No. 2485 had become effecive January 1, 1918, instead of from the date the ordinance actually became effective.

Section 4214, General Code, provides in part:

"Except as otherwise provided in this title, council by ordinance or resolution, shall determine the number of officers, clerks and employes in each department of the city government, and shall fix by ordinance or resolution their respective salaries and compensation."

"Except as otherwise provided in this title," as respecting compensation, pertains only to employes in the library department and certain employes of the health department, such departments having the authority to fix the compensation of their employes.

The compensation of all other officers and employes must be fixed by council or else with its consent.

As the ordinance fixing the compensation of the mayor's clerk and the clerks of the auditor was not passed by council until January 16, 1918, in the absence of any other law, the salary of said employes would have remained as mormerly fixed until such date, and there could not have been any excuse for the payment of the increased salary until such time. However, there is another provision law, and that is found in Section 4227-2, General Code, which provides that ordinances such as No. 2485, are subject to the intative and referendum and hence must lay over thirty days after their passage and approval by the mayor before becoming effective.

The Attorney General has held, in an opinion under date of January 18, 1912, than an ordinance fixing compensation and salary is subject to the intative and referendum laws and hence is inoperative until sixty days (now thirty days) after it has been filed with the mayor.

The Bureau of Inspection and Supervision of Public Offices has held, as found on page 5 of Circular No. 391, that "an ordinance creating a position and fixing the compensation, or an ordinance modifying compensation, is subject to the thirty day period of Section 4227-2, General Code."

Hence under the law, ordinance No. 2485, passed by council January 16, 1916, and filed with the mayor on said date did not become effective or operative until February 15, 1918. Therefore prior to February 15, 1918, the salary of the mayor's clerk was at the rate of $780.00 per annum, that of the auditor's first clerk $900.00 per annum, and that of the auditor's second clerk $720.00 per annum. The said employes having been paid the increased compensation as set forth in the ordinance No. 2485, from January 1, 1918, the said ordinance not having been passed until January 16, 1918, and not having become operative until February 15, 1918, were overpaid as follows:

	January Salary Amount Paid	Amount Due	Amount Overpaid	February Salary Amount Paid	Amount Due	Amount Overpaid
Harry B. Johnson	$90.00	$65.00	$25.00	$90.00	$77.50	$12.50
Miss Nancy Spencer	90.00	75.00	15.00	90.00	82.50	7.50
Miss Mary Hermann	75.00	60.00	15.00	75.00	67.50	7.50

In accordance with the law and the facts as above set forth, a finding for recovery of the city of Portsmouth is returned against Harry B. Johnson, in the amount of $37.50; against Miss Nancy Spencer in the amount of $22.50, and against Miss Mary Hermann in the amount of $22.50.

Under the provision of Section 4286, General Code, the auditor and his sureties are joined in said findings.

It has been held by the department that no ordinance that is subject to the I. and R. laws can be retroactive in its provisions.

As previously stated it is the duty of the auditor to refuse to pay the compensation of any employe as fixed by ordinance, until full thirty days have elapsed from the date it is filed with the mayor, the salary under the ordinance beginning at the expiration of the thirty day period.

COLLECTIONS BY THE CITY AUDITOR

As per ordinances of council the auditor collects the fees for the issuance of sanitary sewer permits, building permits, licenses for various and sundry purposes, and other publice revenues.

The following is a statement of the collections made by the city auditor during the period audited:

PERMITS TO TAP SANITARY SEWERS

Source	Mar. 1-Dec. 31, 1917	Jan. 1-Sept 30, 1918
Sanitary Sewer Tapping Permits	$16,787.50	$8,622.50

SUMMARY

Collections on hand Feb. 28, 1917	$ .00
Collections Mar. 1, 1917 to Sept. 30 1918	$25,410.00	$25,410.00
Deposits Mar. 1, 1917 to Sept 30, 1918		$25,410.00
Collections on hand Sept. 30, 1918		$

The sanitary sewer tapping permit fees as collected by the auditor are deposited in the treasury monthly to the credit of the sinking fund. The sanitary sewers are constructed from the proceeds of general bonds issued for said purpose, no assessment being made against the abutting and benefitted property to pay the cost thereof.

However, in accordance with Section 371 of the Codified Ordinances of 1904, every plumber and sewer builder before doing any work connected with any sewer, is required to file with the department a notice and drawing of the work to be done. Permits are required to be taken out in each special case in the name of the person in whose interest the work is to be done. Under Section 388 of the codified ordinances, the applicants for sanitary sewer permits are required to pay a stipulated fee to the city auditor, whereupon, on presentation of the receipt from the auditor, the department of service issues a permit to the applicant.

The amount of the fees are regulated by ordinance of council passed December 2, 1908, and depend upon the size, character and purpose of use of building for which permit is desired.

The collections from the issuance of sanitary sewer tapping permits were checked from receipts issued by the auditor and stubs of permits by the service department, the stubs of the permits being checked from No. 1533 to No. 2988, inclusive, No. 2202 and No. 2440 being void. While permit No. 2980, which was voided, was attached to the stub of said permit, yet voided permit No. 2202 was not so attached. When for any cause, a permit is voided, it should not be destroyed but in every case it should be attached to the stub and proper notation made as to why it was voided.

September 26, 1917, permit No. 2205 was issued to the J. B. Doerr Estate for two residences located at No. 821 and No. 826 Gallia street, a fee of $30.00 being paid. It would appear that the owners disposed of the property and that the sewer was not tapped as per the permit. December 12, 1917, permit No. 2184 for a seven room residence at No. 412 Sixton street in exchance for permit No. 2205, which was not used by the applicant. Permit No. 2205, as indicated by the records of the department of service, was neither returned nor voided. This permit should be immediately procured and cancelled and attached to the stub thereof. We would suggest that hereafter when a permit is issued and the fee paid that there be no exchange of permits. The permit fee is in the form of an assessment and, like an assessment, attaches to the property and when sale of property is made the privileges under the permit go therewith.

[illegible] cance and that all fees collected properly accounted for.

ON occasion. One of these occasions was when his faithful servant allowed his hand to slip—whereupon the General arose in his wrath and finished the job himself; for the Father of our Country was very properly fond of a good, clean shave.

And in his simple shaving kit may still be seen his equally simple razors. While their model is many hundred years old, they have never been bettered in heft, or shearing width, or right shaving angle on the face.

At such times when his old servant failed him, Washington would have appreciated the guarded, two edged blade of the Durham-Duplex because he would have found it nothing more than his own well-loved model made safe.

DURHAM-DUPLEX

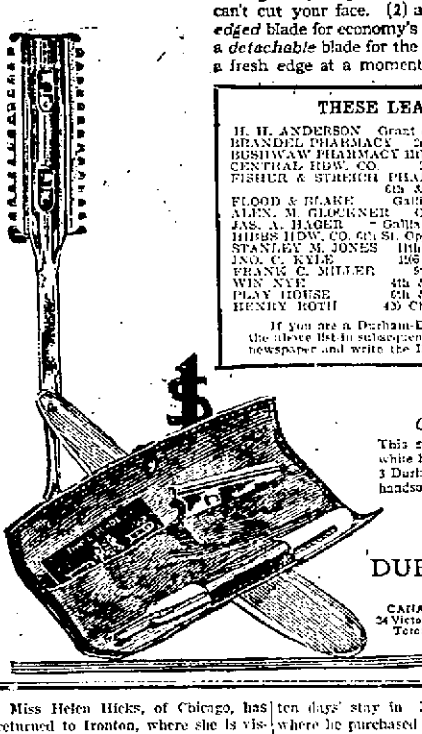

A Real Razor—made Safe

Exactly the same shape and balance in the hand that uncounted generations of shavers have brought to perfection—with these extra advantages: (1) a guarded blade that can't cut your face. (2) a double-edged blade for economy's sake. (3) a detachable blade for the luxury of a fresh edge at a moment's notice. (4) a stroppable blade, so that you don't have to throw good steel away. And it's the longest, strongest, keenest, best-tempered blade on earth. Seven million shavers have found that the Durham-Duplex gives them more shaving mileage than any other safety razor. Apple Crop Short In Lawrence County

The Ironton Register Tuesday evening said:

During the past ten days four or five state and national government men have been in Lawrence county to ascertain the size of the county's crop of apples this year.

Summer apples are retailing at from $3 to $5 per bushel in consuming markets now. Cincinnati and Columbus are offering local growers as high as $4 per bushel for only a medium grade. High class, clean stuff brings the grower $5 per bushel f. o. b. point of shipment.

Summer apples are few and far between. The Transparent crop was almost a complete failure. There have been but few Pound Royal, Duchess, Wolf River, etc. Fall apples such as Maiden Blush, Wealthy, etc. also show a very short crop.

Winter apples like the Rome Beauty, Grimes, York Imperial, Jonathan Stayman, Black Twig, Gano, etc. will in all probability net the growers the largest price ever paid them for this county. One offer has already been received by a grower of $7 a barrel for Beauties at picking time.

Urges Adoption Of League Of Nations

ASHINGTON, D. C., July 23— ...ate on the peace treaty in the sen... was resumed with an address by ...tor McNary, Republican, Oregon, ...ed that the League of Nations ...ould be accepted without any such ...ndments or reservations as would ...r the splendid purposes of the ...nant."

...tor McNary was followed by ...tor Johnson, Democrat, North Da... who declared that the United ...es by refusing to join the League ...Nations, not only would endanger ...can safety, but would break faith ...h its associates in the war.

"If commerce extends to the limits ...the entire globe," said Senator ...nson, "have you ever considered ...position of danger we would be ...if the great commercial nations en... the league and we remain aloof? Why should we not be regarded with enmity and suspicion? Our great commercial interests, rich lands, favored geographical position, would soon place us in a position of standing alone. The time might come when there would be a vast combination against us to refill their treasuries and discharge their debts."

Opponents of the league have made many misrepresentations, Senator Johnson declared. His provisions, he said, are "reasonably clear and plain," and generally satisfactory, although, he added, virtually every one favors some changes.

SUPREME COURT GETS 2 3-4 BEER QUESTION

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—(By the Associated Press)—The question of the right of brewers to manufacture beer containing 2.75 percent alcohol reached the supreme court yesterday through appeals filed by the government from federal court decrees in Baltimore quashing indictments brought against the Standard Brewing Company under the food control act of 1917.

Because of the importance of the question in connection with the enforcement of the war-time prohibition acts, court officials expect the government to ask that the case be expedited. Unless this is done a decision probably would not be handed down until after prohibition by constitutional amendment became effective.

To Discuss New Church

A big meeting will be held tonight at the Pleasant Green Baptist church. Every member is expected to be present.

Business of importance will be discussed, in which all members should be interested.

The meeting will begin promptly at 7:45 p. m. We do not want any slackers tonight. Everyone should be a front line worker!

If you fail in your church at this time to make good, the opportunity is gone. Why let the opportunity pass for a new church house? Now is the time. Tomorrow will be too late.

Bound For Ft. Leavenworth

Thirteen military prisoners enroute to Ft. Leavenworth passed through South Portsmouth yesterday on a C. and O. troop train. They faced sentences ranging from one year to life. One man was sentenced to 18 years at work for being absent without official leave for three months.

Two of the prisoners were negroes, one of them was a former lieutenant, and the remainder were enlisted white men.

PROHIBITION OFFICER SENTENCED FOR MOONSHINING—IS RELEASED

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., July 23.—Seized by a gang of alleged moonshiners, brought before a Green Brier county justice of the peace, and found guilty on a charge of bootlegging, was the experience of H. R. Ratliff, of Hinton, West Virginia, a state prohibition officer, who returned late yesterday from an investigation tour into the hills. Ratliff was sentenced to serve sixty days in jail by the justice, but was rescued by Harry Fitzgerald, a brother officer, from an alleged moonshiner who was escorting the convicted official to the bastile.

Ratliff and Fitzgerald went into the hills of Green Brier to investigate a report that many illicit stills were in operation there. The officers located two stills and Ratliff went to the village their families. James Kelley was dispatched at Charleston for additional men to make the raid. While in Amo, Ratliff was arrested by the gang of alleged moonshiners at the point of revolvers and brought before the justice, charged with bootlegging, and was convicted.

Following the rescue of Ratliff by Fitzgerald, the officers destroyed two stills and more than six thousand gallons of mash and swore out 19 warrants for Green Brier county residents, who are charged with manufacturing moonshine.

Select Site For Church; To Be Built In North End

Through a deal closed Tuesday afternoon the Trustees of Allen Chapel church bought the J. H. Goodpaster property at the northwest corner of Twelfth and Waller streets.

The large lot with a frontage of 66½ feet and a depth of 113 feet will be the site of the new church to be erected by Allen Chapel members. It will make an ideal location for this church. It was one of several North End sites that had been under consideration for several weeks.

SEN. BECKHAM ARGUES FOR LEAGUE

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—Speaking in support of the peace treaty in the senate today, Senator Beckham, Democrat, of Kentucky, urged early ratification without reservations, declaring a majority of the American people favor a trial in the hope that the League of Nations will promote international concord.

"No advocate of this document," Senator Beckham, "can proclaim it perfect. No idealist can safely promise that it beyond all doubt removes the possibility of war in the future. But it at least comes to us with a promise that if given a fair trial, if improved where improvements may be found necessary later on, and if supported by the civilized governments of the earth, it will certainly be a tremendous advantage over all previous plans and one that may in reality fulfill the dream of its most enthusiastic advocates, a world-wide and an enduring peace."

Senator Beckham warned Republican leaders against making the League of Nations a partisan question, declaring it is one which transcends all partisan or personal issues.

"The great common people of this country," said the Kentucky senator, "have seen with remarkable quickness and precision that flaw in the argument of the opposition which suggests no substitute, which proposes no plan, which offers no remedy to protect us in any way whatever from the hideous monster of war. They realize no instrument of this kind can be at once framed and promulgated without imperfections or defects; but they are willing to try it."

Opposition to the treaty because of the Shantung provision, Senator Beckham characterized, as "one of the shallowest arguments yet advanced."

"It is one, however," he added, "that appeals to sentiment and to the imagination and the opponents of the league have not failed to play upon that feature of it and to exaggerate its importance in relation to the multitude of far more vital problems which this treaty undertakes to settle.

"I think that under all of the circumstances the peace conference did the best it could in regard to the Shantung issue. Let Japan be given the opportunity to make good her promise to right the wrong, originally committed by Germany before we undertake this severe and improper criticism of her."

Senator Beckham said it was surprising that men of distinguished ability should base their arguments on isolation as a means of national safety and "seek to solace us with the shallowed delusion that we can maintain isolation or separation from European quarrels, however odious and abominable they may seem to us."

"Nor could Article 10," he continued, "operate to limit or annul the provisions in our federal constitution, which gives congress alone the right to declare war. We, therefore, do not need any reservation upon that article, but we have under the league the protection contained in the requirement of a unanimous vote and the reservation which our constitution provides as to the power of congress to declare war."

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

WIFE MURDERER IS SENTENCED

HAMILTON, O., July 23.—"I'm sorry I did it," was the ejaculation of Germaine Schmidt, 23, a German alien, when sentenced late yesterday to an indeterminate sentence in the Ohio penitentiary for the murder of his wife, Pauline, with a revolver, January 21, last. Following an argument on a street corner, Schmidt emptied a revolver into her body and then gave himself up.

No Camouflage in This Price

Titan 10-20 $1,000 Cash F.O.B. Factory $1,050 on Time

We have reduced the Titan 10-20 price $225. You can now get the world's standard 3-plow tractor for $1,000.

THERE is no "joker" in this price. We are not telling you one story in this advertisement and then leaving it for our dealers to break the sad news that the advertised price won't buy a tractor unless you pay extra for a lot of necessary features. The Titan dealer won't charge you extra for "starting and service" before he can deliver the tractor. He won't show you a machine stripped of many essential parts—belt pulley, fenders, platform, governor, drawbar, tools—and then tell you that you can have these things by paying extra for them. The Titan at this advertised price is a complete 3-plow kerosene tractor.

Then there is another thing. We are not experimenting at your expense when we sell you a Titan 10-20. There is real farm machine and tractor manufacturing experience back of it. We have been in the farm machine business for 88 years and have been supplying tractors for 14 years. Not another company in the world knows the farmer's power and machine requirements as the Harvester organization does.

Would you entrust your bank account to a man who had never had any experience in handling money? Will you risk your farm profits in a tractor built by designers whose knowledge of farming is limited to books and a drawing board? It will pay you to think about these things when you buy your tractor.

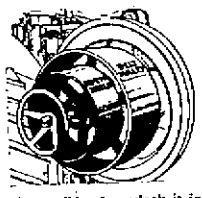

Starting and Instruction Service

Another "joker" of some tractor concerns is to charge you a large "starting and service" fee—extra. This is another way of getting a low price for advertising purposes. But you can't get the tractor without paying this charge. They make it compulsory. The International dealer gives you this service without asking you to pay extra for it when you buy a Titan 10-20. Free tractor schools inaugurated by us, also benefit Titan purchasers in all parts of the country.

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER COMPANY OF AMERICA (INC.) CHICAGO U S A

When you buy a TITAN the original price includes:

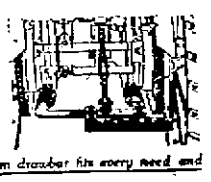

Friction Clutch Pulley A large, wide friction clutch pulley, made in five sizes, equipped with safety shield, is mounted directly on the crank-shaft of the low-speed, steady Titan engine and delivers the full power to the driven machine. The Titan 10-20 can be quickly backed into the belt because of the location of the pulley and the belt clears the front wheels and other parts of the tractor by a generous margin. It is not necessary to dig holes for the front wheels to get belt clearance. The Titan pulley was not put on as an afterthought. The designers did not overlook it in the first place. Some tractor builders committed this very serious error, due to lack of farm knowledge and experience. To remedy this error, they designed a small make-shift pulley, in one size only, attached it in an awkward place, and charge you $35 to $40 for it. The Titan 10-20 friction clutch pulley is furnished without extra charge.

Throttle Governor Some tractors are sold without governors because, perhaps, the designers did not know that one was needed. Which is the best economy—to pay an operator a salary just to sit on the tractor and adjust the fuel to the load variations when engaged in belt work or let a throttle governor do it without extra cost?—do it automatically, perfectly. The Titan throttle governor saves fuel, prevents grain losses by delivering uniform power to your thresher and lengthens the life of both tractor and driven machines. You get this governor without extra charge.

Drawbar Some tractor builders put a hook and eye affair on the tail end of their tractors—and call it a drawbar! They seem to have overlooked the fact that a farm tractor not only pulls plows but also mowers, hay loaders, grain binders, harvester-threshers, etc., each requiring different hitch adjustment. Perhaps they didn't know about these other machines. Look at the Titan drawbar. Note the provisions for a wide range of adjustment both up and down and sidewise. The Titan drawbar fits every need and it is furnished without extra cost.

Fenders The designers of some tractors evidently did not know that the drive wheels throw dirt, dust or mud over the operator and machine unless fenders prevent it. The Titan 10-20 has such fenders. They are also a "safety first" feature. The state of Michigan has passed a law prohibiting the sale of fenderless tractors. Titan fenders are furnished without the $40 to $50 extra charge made by the "low-price" manufacturers.

Platform Some tractor designers apparently never sat in a tractor seat ten hours a day or more, jolting over rough fields, so they can't appreciate what a relief it is for the tractor operator to rest himself now and then by standing up, without loss of time. You will appreciate the Titan 10-20 platform that enables you to do this. It is a comfort feature furnished regularly with every Titan 10-20 tractor—no extra cost.

Tools A complete set of sixteen tools is furnished with every Titan 10-20. This handy tool-kit is provided in spite of the fact that Titan 10-20 tractors get out of order less frequently than any other tractors in the world. Some tractor concerns whose tractors really need frequent adjustment and repairs, furnish nothing but two or three wrenches. They tell you that their product is so good that it doesn't need adjustment. "Do you believe this? As a matter of fact, they omit necessary tools for the same reason they omit the essential features described above—to make a low "camouflage price"! The Titan 10-20 complete tool kit is furnished without extra charge.

Which was accepted?

Enormous Profits Are Made In The Rubber Industry

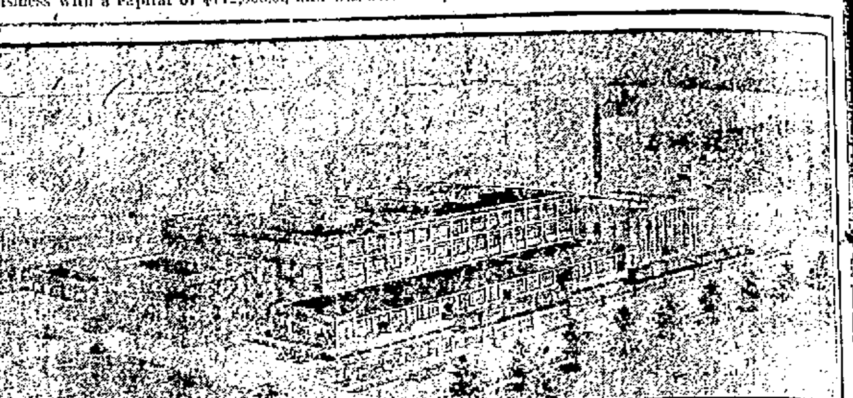

A woman in Akron the other day received a dividend check for $63,000.00 earned from a small original investment at organization of a tire organization that now covers the country.

The Dunlap Tire and Rubber Company started business with a capital of $112,000.00 and was sold two years later for fifteen million dollars cash.

Do Rubber Stocks Pay

The investment of $500 in stock at the time of organization of the following companies would be worth the amounts given below. These statistics are based on official reports.

Miller (in three years)	$ 1,625.00
Mohawk (in four years	8,700.00
Kelly-Springfield	25,550.00
Goodyear	64,550.00
Dunlap	67,000.00
Diamond	75,000.00
Firestone	75,000.00
Goodrich	348,000.00
Average	83,172.00

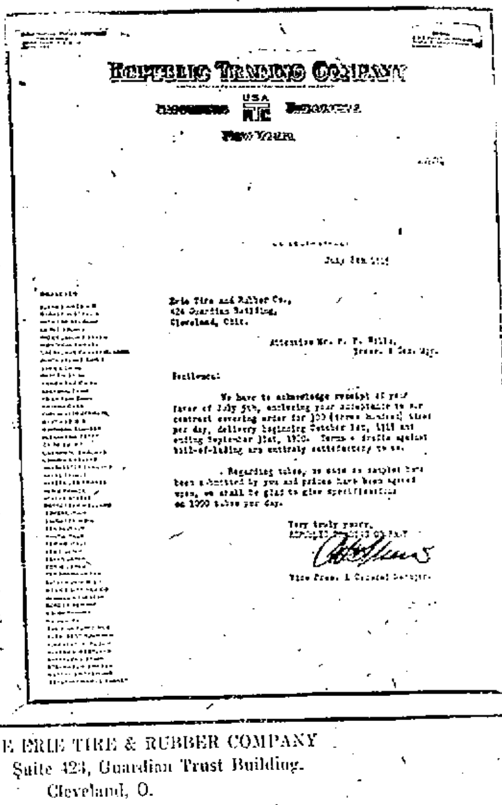

JUST THINK WHAT THIS MEANS TO YOU

The rubber industry is still in its infancy. Last year (1918) the sale of rubber products by the U. S. Rubber Corporation alone, shows an increase of $30,000,000.00 over the previous year.

A new condition that has recently developed has grown out of the increasing permanent demand for Cord Tires. This demand cannot be met by the largest plants now equipped for fabric tire manufacture. We start manufacture of Erie tires exclusively to meet the demand for this higher priced product. Our profits will be large because our volume will be great.

Men of long experience with other successful companies offer to share their profits with you. We own the plant—recent additions will complete a total of 110,000 sq. feet of floor space, and we have the market—orders are already on our books. The one shown here calls for 300 Erie Cord tires a day and a thousand tubes when we are ready. We start production on Sept. 15th.

Our liberal bonus plan of common stock with preferred will be withdrawn on that date. Your opportunity to share the possibilities in our future will be greatly increased if you act at once. Get all the facts. The decision must be made by you, but we will furnish you with all the information you need if you ask for it and you need feel under no obligation whatever.

SCOUT MORRIS WINS TWO MERIT BADGES

Scout Orville Morris, of Troop 1, set a new Boy Scout record, locally by taking two merit badges at the time he became a first class scout. He took the swimming badge and the life saving badge. In the swimming, Scout Morris swam the 100 yards under the most trying circumstances, as the river was full of drift wood which he had to push aside with every stroke.

The life saving feat was much harder to perform. A Scout has to dive from the surface to a depth of 7 feet and bring up a ten pound rock as at this depth the rock gives the average weight of a person who is drowned.

Scout Morris in winning the merit badges caused a great amount of interest in Scout circles, and many scouts anxiously await their time for trying for the merit badges and were interested in Morris' success.

Leg Is Amputated

Friends of Clarence Bromley, popular young N. & W. brakeman, will regret to learn that his left leg was amputated six inches above the knee in Hempstead hospital yesterday by Drs. Hilderman, Bardin and Berndt. He withstood the ordeal splendidly.

On June 27 he was run down by a cut of cars in the N. & W. yards in East Portsmouth. His left leg was broken and his knee cap was crushed but attending physicians were hopeful of saving his leg, until complications developed several days ago. Bromley who is only 21 years old, was formerly employed by the Schwartz Clothing company. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bromley of 2226 Eighth street.

EXPLOSION ON DIRIGIBLE WAS DUE TO BACK FIRE

CHICAGO, July 23.—The investigation by federal, state and city authorities into the cause of the destruction of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company's dirigible on Monday, which resulted in the death of 12 persons, the injury of 28 others and the wrecking of the interior of the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank, was resumed today.

The investigation, which started yesterday, was adjourned because of the refusal of two witnesses—John A. Boettner, pilot of the ill-fated airship on its last trip, and W. C. Young, local aeronautical expert of the company—to testify on advice of counsel. They are held by the states attorney, while the other members of the crew who had related in detail the events which led to the plunge of the machine through the roof of the bank, were released to their attorney.

Coroner Hoffman is working with a double jury in an attempt to place the responsibility for the deaths, one jury hearing testimony and the other acting in an advisory capacity.

Henry Wacker, surviving mechanician of the disaster, who is suffering with a fracture of the skull, a broken back and fractures of the shoulder and three ribs, said that the fire in the airship was caused by back fire of the motor. He declared that the crew knew of the trouble which was being experienced with the engines and that Chief Pilot Kraft, had refused to go aboard for the final trip.

The dependents of the employes of the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank who were killed, will receive $4,500 insurance, it became known today. Each was insured by $1,000 on a life policy and $3,500 on an accident policy furnished by the bank.

SPECIAL REGIMENTS OF MARRIED SOLDIERS

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—Special regiments, composed largely, if not entirely, of married men, probably will result from the war department policy announced today regarding the disposition of regulars who are returning to this country with French wives. Orders have been sent to commanding officers of debarkation ports to transfer such men and their wives to either Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia; Fort Ethan Allen, Vermont, or Fort Myer, Virginia, when they belong to the cavalry, and to Madison Barracks, New York, in the case of infantrymen.

Tentatively selected as the units which are to become the F. F. V. (father of families veterans), of the military establishment are the third cavalry at Fort Myer and Ethan Allen, the sixth cavalry at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia, and an infantry regiment yet to be named, at the New York post. The regimental commander in each instance has been instructed to provide facilities which will enable the soldier to take care of his new responsibilities. Official estimates are that 20,000 American soldiers married foreign brides. A majority of these men were emergency enlistments, however, and it is believed their regiments will be sufficient to accommodate the regulars. Enlisted men in the staff corps will be ordered to report to Washington temporarily and will be distributed from that point to specially selected billets.

INVESTIGATING MURDER

CLEVELAND, O., July 23—With the police no nearer a solution than they were forty-eight hours ago, a public inquest into the mysterious slaying of Daniel Kaber, wealthy Lakewood publisher, last Friday, was opened this morning by Coroner P. J. Byrne, at the county morgue. Among witnesses summoned were Mrs. Daniel Kaber, widow; Miss Marian McArdle, Kaber's step-daughter; F. W. Utterback, his nurse; Anna Rachr, who spent the night with Miss McArdle, and Chief of Police Christelsen, of Lakewood.

GAMBLERS FINED

Tobe Henry, William Noel, Ed Drennen and Carl Sagowitz, who were arrested in a raid by the police on a card game in York Park Monday night, were convicted of gambling at their hearing in police court yesterday evening and Mayor Kaps fined each of the defendants $25, but suspended all but $5 in all the cases except Sagowitz, who was fined $10.

May Run For Congress

Jonathan S. Dodge, formerly of this city, is being discussed in California as a candidate for congress. Mr. Dodge, who came to Portsmouth from Madison township, was an attorney and real estate dealer in Portsmouth with an office in the old Elk building on Second street. He left here about 18 years ago for New Mexico on account of his wife's ill-health. He later moved to the coast and is now located at Pasadena, Cal. Relative to his nomination, the Los Angeles Times recently said:

"During the past few days there has been considerable talk of the possibility of Jonathan S. Dodge, county supervisor, standing as a candidate for the Republican nomination for congress in the Ninth District. It is asserted that Mr. Dodge would stand ace high with stand-pat Republicans; that he would be very acceptable to a large percentage of the progressive wing and the prohibition element of the district, and prominent Democrats declare he would endure many Bourbon votes."

Seborrhea Kills the Hair Famo Kills Seborrhea

Seborrhea is an old trouble to which scientists have given a new name.

And science has found in Famo a new way of overcoming it.

Seborrhea is the disease which kills the roots of the hair by means of the deadly dandruff bacilli.

It does to the hair what pyorrhea does to the teeth.

Famo is a formula worked out in one of the great pharmaceutical houses of Detroit.

Three years were required to develop Famo.

It proved its efficacy before it was offered to the public.

The way in which Famo does its work is almost unbelievable.

Transformation is Wonderful

Almost at once your eyes testify to the transformation.

New hair grows like the hair of healthy children.

The scalp becomes like the scalp of a baby. All itching of the scalp is stopped.

Famo brings back the look of health by a softness and lustre beyond words to describe.

Famo Destroys Bacilli

Famo removes the obstacle to growth, when it kills the seborrhea (dandruff) bacilli.

Freed from the bondage of disease, the hair leaps into luxuriance.

In women the change is wonderful.

If their hair was normally beautiful, the beauty is intensified.

Famo Contains No Alcohol

The natural color is enhanced and growth is retarded. Famo contains no alcohol. Alcohol, if used persistently, is harmful to the hair, as it dries the scalp.

Famo comes in two sizes—a small size for 75 cents and an extra large size at $1. Your money back if it doesn't satisfy.

Every member of the family should use it.

Famo is sold at all toilet goods counters. Applications may be had at the better barber shops.

Seborrhea is the medical name for a condition characterized by scales from the sebaceous or glands of the scalp. The substance secretion for use as soaps or lotions and is commonly known as dandruff.

Mr. Flannigan Gets A Shoe Fitters' Diploma

Dan Flanagan, in charge of the shoe department at Starling Bros.' store, has returned from New York City, where he attended a training school for shoe-fitters.

Mr. Flannigan returned with honors as he was one of 61 out of a hundred who received diplomas in correct shoe fitting. The men who attended the school were for the most part expert shoe-fitters, but Mr. Flannigan did not have any trouble in making as good, if not better answers, as any present.

Shoes with defects were held before the school and the men had to tell why they were defective. The local man in nearly every instance gave the best answer. His diploma shows how well he knows the shoe-fitting business.

Mr. Flannigan took the complete course, learning not only shoe-fitting but also the scientific end of the business. His nine years in local shoe factories and nine years as salesman fitted him to carry off honors. Shoe-fitters from all over the country were present at the school. It is needless to say that Mr. Flannigan is proud of the showing he made and the diploma he received.

If Thin And Nervous, Try Phosphate

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force

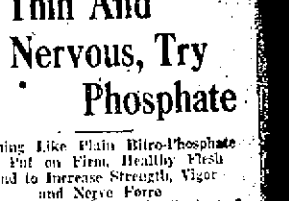

When one stops to consider the host of thin people who are searching continually for some method by which they may increase their flesh to normal proportions by the difficult one of ugly bulging, rounding off the protruding angles with the attendant bloom of health and attractiveness, it is no wonder that many and varied suggestions along this line appear from time to time in public print.

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals it is a well-known fact that the lack of sufficient phosphorous in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition. Experiments on humans and animals by many scientists have demonstrated beyond question of doubt that a body deficient in phosphorous becomes nervous, sickly and thin. A noted author and professor in his book "Chemistry and Food Nutrition," published in 1918, says "* * * that the amount of phosphorous nutrition required for the normal nutrition of man is seriously underestimated in many of our standard text books."

It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorous may now be met by the use of an organic phosphate known throughout English speaking countries as Bitro-Phosphate. Through the assimilation of this phosphate by the nerves tissue the phosphoric content when absorbed in the amount normally required by nature soon produces a welcome change in the body and mind. Nerve tension disappears, vigour and strength replace weakness and lack of energy, and the whole body soon loses its ugly hollows and abrupt angles, becoming enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty and the will and strength to be up and doing.

CAUTION—While Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

THE ORMOND

A great many women with slender feet, as well as wide feet, have trouble in being fitted in oxfords of a comfortable pattern, complaining that "The high heeled patterns are all they can get that fit correctly."

I offer this oxford in brown, black or white, welt shoes, military heel, with just the correct arch to support your foot, allowing you to have comfort as well as style. Better come in some morning and be fitted.

Browns, eight; blacks, seven-fifty; Whites, six.

Own Your Own Home

HOME IS PRIDE OF ALL

Don't Let Taxes Scare You--You Are Paying Your Landlord's Now

Many people would build a home of their own if they were not scared by the bugaboo of Taxes. They live in a rented house and never once stop to figure they are paying their landlord's taxes in addition to a good interest on the investment. They pay taxes and interest on some one else's property for the privilege of living. They are paying for the erection of the house in which they live and only have rent receipts to show for it. They should ponder over these things—their money going out and nothing coming in. They should stop and think! They should realize that in order to own a home of their very own they have to do no more than they are now. It takes some people a long while to awaken. After living in rented houses for many years and seeing the landlord wax fat at the expense of their toil, they begin to do a little figuring on their own account. Once get the husband and wife to figuring and a new house is going up or they are going to purchase one already erected.

TAXES AND INTEREST WILL BUILD YOU A HOME

Why not take what you are paying the landlord for the privilege of living and put it into a home of your own The rent you are now paying to the bank account credit of your landlord will pay for your own home within a comparatively short time.

COMPARE A HOME WITH A PILE OF RENT RECEIPTS

There is no home owner that would go back to paying rent—that's a pretty good argument in favor of one owning his own home. When you rent you don't know just when the landlord is going to boost the price. It takes something like this to convince some people how much better off they would be, how much more contented and happier—if they lived in their own home. As has often been said in these advertisements,

PORTSMOUTH NEEDS 1000 NEW HOUSES

That is argument enough to prove the statement that Portsmouth realty is on the upward climb. No man has lost a penny in the last ten years on Portsmouth real estate. Many have made thousands, for the price of any commodity, be it butter, eggs, blackberries or houses, is established by the law of supply and demand. Portsmouth real estate is going to continue to advance. There is no question of that. Building materials are now as low as they perhaps will be, for some time. To wait means you will have to pay more—much more if the present tendency of the markets point to anything.

YOUR OWN HOME IS THE PLACE OF HAPPINESS.

"Love in a cottage built for two," is the title of an old song. But love is more divine if the couple own their own home. Every man who is the head of a family is not living up to his full opportunities nor filling the niche in the community he is expected to fill if he does not own his home. His family is surely worth enough to him to demand a roof of their own over their heads.

THINK IT OVER—RESOLVE TO BUILD NOW

To procrastinate means to lose out—to do it now is the only way to succeed. The fellow who is always putting important matters off until tomorrow never gets anywhere. Come in and let's talk it over and possibly we can materially help you.

wrong with his character and it was fortunate for you that he married some one else.

Do you admire him for going to you with his troubles? Don't you think he ought to stand by his wife now that he is married? He has much to learn before he can rightly call himself a man.

Think about him if you want to, but think about him as he is and not wrapped in your ideals which made a man of him in your eyes. You will find happiness just as soon as you have the right attitude. Perhaps, however, you will have to free yourself from the close relationship with the other young man. Remember that love cannot be forced. If you are honest with yourself I think you will find you are forcing yourself to love the second young man.

Dear Dolly Wise:—I would like to have your answer to this sort of a situation: I have met a certain fellow at dances a good deal and he always seemed as if he liked to be with me and danced with me all the time. But he always says when he leaves me that he will see me at the next dance, but never asks to take me there. Now I would like to know why he never invites me anywhere. Your reply will be appreciated.

RUTH.

The young man enjoys you as a dancer, but he is not interested in you as a friend. Perhaps if you give him fewer dances, only one or two an evening, he will want to be with you more and will find a way.

Do you go to dances without an escort? There are some girls, you know, who would not consider such a thing. Perhaps the young man has a girl who will not attend the dances. She may be his ideal and therefore he thinks of you only as a dancer and not as a sweetheart.

WARNS ENGLAND AGAINST A HASTY REVOLUTION

WEIMAR, Wednesday, July 23.—(By the Associated Press)—In addressing the national assembly today Gustav Adolph Bauer, the premier, alluding to the recent strikes, warned the country against a hasty revolution, which he said could only be a counter revolution, resulting in disaster.

The premier admitted that the great masses of the people had ground for discontent and said it was the government's task to remove any just reason for this. The remedy, he added, was a law regulating workers' councils and economic councils, which the government would draft.

There would also be a bill, the premier announced, to nationalize electric power stations and socialize the production of lignite. The premier offered long exposition of the government's policy, which he said was one of socialization. He declared that the socialization of other mines would follow that of the lignite mines and said a democratic state possessing railways, electricity and mines would be in a position to give to Germany's economic life that form of contentment which he considered right and possible.

"We shall need to work and to abhor revenge," the premier said in conclusion. "We have to relieve our national life and give national thought on the foundation of the League of Nations idea. On the growth of the strengthening of the idea our hope must rest and from it must come a revision of the peace treaty."

COUNT COMING FOR SYMPATHY

VIENNA, Wednesday, July 23.—(By the Associated Press)—The object of the reported attempt of Count Michael Karolyi, former president of the Hungarian republic, to sail from Italy for the United States, it is stated here, is to enlist sympathy and help for the political and industrial reconstruction of Hungary and to secure better territorial conditions. Count Karolyi is also said to intend writing a book dealing with conditions in the Hungarian republic during the past eight months. He has not intention of attempting communistic agitation.

OPENING STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 24.—Bullish enthusiasm was uppermost at the outset of today's stock market operations, speculative favorites making material additions to recent gains. Stromberg Carburetor was again the sensational feature, adding some ten points to yesterday's 20 point advance in the first half hour. Steels, tobaccos and food shares were 1 to 1 points higher, and oils and shippings made moderate progress. Rails were relatively backward and Lorillard Tobacco forfeited part of yesterday's substantial rise.

TEN SHOT IN BERLIN

BERLIN, Tuesday, July 22—(By the Associated Press)—Ten persons were shot during disorders which attended the breaking up of a majority Socialist meeting by communists and Spartacans here yesterday. Those attending the meeting, which was held in the trades union building, attempted to lynch the man who fired the shots, but he was saved by hospital helpers who were in the building.

Several majority Socialist meetings held late yesterday did not develop as smoothly and quietly as they began. Communists and Spartacans by a prearranged plan smuggled fellow radicals into halls where the majority Socialists were congregated and there broke up the meetings by catcalls and other noises and even by violence.

At countless meetings the majority Socialist speakers gave up attempting to speak after half an hour of shouting, and in the trades union building, where the biggest meeting was held, chairs, beer bottles, glasses and even tables were flung about in a successful attempt to break up the gathering. Government troops had to quell words riots in other halls. The Berlin press is indignant at the emperor.

500 ALIENS WILL BE DEPORTED

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 24.—Included in legislation which the house expects to dispose of before the proposed recess to begin next month will be a bill for the deportation of 500 enemy aliens now at internment camps and a measure to prevent foreign ships from engaging in coastwise trade. A tentative legislative slate was agreed on at a party conference of Republicans last night but framing of a definite program was left to the steering committee for a report at another conference next week.

Efforts of some of the house Republicans last night to increase the steering committee from five to seven or nine were voted down. A recess for a month to begin in August practically was agreed on but all committee inquiries now under way and contemplated will continue during the recess. Proposed new inquiries include that into the Mexican situation and an investigation into the operation and expenditures of the shipping board and the emergency fleet.

The conference was reported to have been harmonious.

STILL STAGING WAR

VIENNA, Wednesday, July 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Skirmishing continues between the Rumanians and Hungarians. The latter have crossed the river Theiss at points between Tokai, 110 miles northeast of Budapest, and Csongrad, 75 miles southeast of Budapest, the river being low.

Bela Kun, the communist leader, declared he was grieved thus to punish the allies but said he had notified Premier Clemenceau that action was necessary "if the Rumanians did not retreat from the territory given the soviet by the peace conference."

A Vienna dispatch under date of July 21, said that the Vienna newspapers reported the downfall of Bela Kun and the taking over of power by a triumvirate composed of Vanya, former minister of social protection, Moses Alpary and Tibor Szamuely.

Own Your Own Home

HOME IS PRIDE OF ALL

Don't Let Taxes Scare You--You Are Paying Your Landlord's Now

Many people would build a home of their own if they were not scared by the bugaboo of Taxes. They live in a rented house and never once stop to figure they are paying their landlord's taxes in addition to a good interest on the investment. They pay taxes and interest on some one else's property for the privilege of living. They are paying for the erection of the house in which they live and only have rent receipts to show for it. They should ponder over these things—their money going out and nothing coming in. They should stop and think! They should realize that in order to own a home of their very own they have to do no more than they are now. It takes some people a long while to awaken. After living in rented houses for many years and seeing the landlord wax fat at the expense of their toil, they begin to do a little figuring on their own account. Once get the husband and wife to figuring and a new house is going up or they are going to purchase one already erected.

TAXES AND INTEREST WILL BUILD YOU A HOME

Why not take what you are paying the landlord for the privilege of living and put it into a home of your own The rent you are now paying to the bank account credit of your landlord will pay for your own home within a comparatively short time.

COMPARE A HOME WITH A PILE OF RENT RECEIPTS

There is no home owner that would go back to paying rent—that's a pretty good argument in favor of one owning his own home. When you rent you don't know just when the landlord is going to boost the price. It takes something like this to convince some people how much better off they would be, how much more contented and happier—if they lived in their own home. As has often been said in these advertisements,

PORTSMOUTH NEEDS 1000 NEW HOUSES

That is argument enough to prove the statement that Portsmouth realty is on the upward climb. No man has lost a penny in the last ten years on Portsmouth real estate. Many have made thousands, for the price of any commodity, be it butter, eggs, blackberries or houses, is established by the law of supply and demand. Portsmouth real estate is going to continue to advance. There is no question of that. Building materials are now as low as they perhaps will be, for some time. To wait means you will have to pay more—much more if the present tendency of the markets point to anything.

YOUR OWN HOME IS THE PLACE OF HAPPINESS.

"Love in a cottage built for two," is the title of an old song. But love is more divine if the couple own their own home. Every man who is the head of a family is not living up to his full opportunities nor filling the niche in the community he is expected to fill if he does not own his home. His family is surely worth enough to him to demand a roof of their own over their heads.

THINK IT OVER—RESOLVE TO BUILD NOW

To procrastinate means to lose out—to do it now is the only way to succeed. The fellow who is always putting important matters off until tomorrow never gets anywhere. Come in and let's talk it over and possibly we can materially help you.

To the Woman Who "Never Has Any Luck Putting Up Fruit and Berries"

How even a Beginner can be Sure of Perfect Results in Making Jams, Jellies and Preserves

Good home preserving is now easy to accomplish. Even the housewife who "never has any luck" with all sugar preserving can put up fruit perfectly if she will first make her preserving syrup with ½ Karo (Red Label) and ½ sugar—instead of sugar alone.

By this method you can always have the finest, most delicious jams, good clear jellies; and preserves with a rich, heavy syrup.

Karo is a fine, clear syrup, with a natural affinity for the fruit juices.

It blends the fruit with the sugar, doing away with one of the great difficulties of putting up fruit at home, and just about cutting the work in half.

You can depend on it that fruit put up by this method will never grow tough or "candy" in the glass.

For Cooking, Baking and Candy Making Karo (Red Label) is used in millions of homes. In all cooking and baking recipes us Karo instead of sugar. It is sweet, of delicate flavor, and brings out the natural flavor of the food.

FREE The experienced housewife as well as the beginner will find unusual interest in the new sixty-eight page Corn Products Cook Book. Beautifully illustrated—and suggestions galore for preserving, etc. It is free—write us today for it.

"Worried Woman"—Sure, honey, you're not a worried woman—just a worried girl. You naturally will be childish in lots of ways. People don't change over night. Your husband married you, realizing your mannerisms would be with you for life and since he loved you with them he should not find fault now. However, it's a hopeful sign if you realize your own shortcomings. It is a sign of good breeding to be quiet on the street at all times. In being introduced to a person never try to make an impression "right off the reel". Anyone can tell when you are trying hard to be noticed.

I would not attempt an explanation with the man of whom you spoke, however, in the future I'd certainly govern myself so that neither myself or husband would be embarrassed by my conduct.

Dear Dolly.—Will you please publish in The Times the name of the plant that is furnishing steam to blow the curfew. Thanking you for this information, I am appreciatively

A SUBSCRIBER.

The Portsmouth Paving Brick Company is furnishing the steam to blow the curfew whistle.

Dear Dolly Wise.—Please print the recipe for cucumber pickles you printed in your column last year.

HOUSEKEEPER.

Cucumber Pickles—Soak pickles in salt water over night. Heat through in one half water and one-half vinegar to cover them. Put in jar and fill up with one pint of boiling vinegar. Add sugar to taste if wanted sweet.

Dear Miss Wise—I am a girl nineteen. About one year ago I met a young man of twenty. I went with him until this spring and then was engaged to him.

Some business called me away from home for a couple of months and when I came back he was married to a young girl just fifteen. I took it awfully to heart for I loved him. Now he tells me he was engaged to her before he was to me and that just added one more pain to bear.

About a week ago he came to me and told me he was sorry and that it was not his girl wife he loved, but it was I.

In the meantime, I have found another boy friend who says he loves me so much that were I to drop him, it would drive him from home. I love this boy, but not as much as I did the other one.

Please advise me what to do. Should I forget about my married friend. Do you think he loved me

YOURS TRULY.

Above all, do not marry your new friend who loves you so much and whom you love too, but not as much as the other. When a girl is disappointed in love the first thing she does is to turn to some one else for consolation. That is what you have done. You are not in love with your new friend and if you marry him you will spoil your life. Just be friends now, and after while matters will adjust themselves. The right man will come along for you and the right girl for him.

Your first friend acted dishonorably. Do not waste your love on him, because he is not worthy of your loyalty. He had no right to be engaged to two girls at once, and he had no right to marry another girl when he was engaged to you. Something is radically wrong with his character and it was fortunate for you that he married some one else.

Do you admire him for going to you with his troubles? Don't you think he ought to stand by his wife now that he is married? He has much to learn before he can rightly call himself a man.

Think about him if you want to, but think about him as he is and not wrapped in your ideals which made a man of him in your eyes. You will find happiness just as soon as you have the right attitude. HER DAUGHTER WAS SAVED FROM OPERATION

Mrs. Wells of Petersburg Tells How.

Petersburg, Va.—"For two years my daughter suffered from a weakness and pains in her right side; at times she was so bad she could not do any work. For two years she was attended by the best physicians here, and both agreed that she would have to be operated on. I suggested Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and at first she refused to take it, but finally consented. From the very beginning it helped her, and now she is entirely well, and telling everybody how much good it has done her."—Mrs. W. D. WELLS, 226 North Adams Street, Petersburg, Va.

If every girl who suffers as Miss Wells did, or from irregularities, painful periods, backache, sideache, dragging down pains, inflammation or ulceration would only give this famous root and herb remedy a trial they would soon find relief from such suffering.

For special advice women are asked to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of forty years experience is at your service.

A DISCOVERY THAT BENEFITS MANKIND

Two discoveries have added greatly to human welfare.

In 1835 Newton originated the vacuum process for condensing milk with cane sugar to a semi-liquid form.

In 1883 Horlick at Racine, Wis., discovered how to reduce milk to a dry powder form with extract of malted grains, without cane sugar.

This product HORLICK named Malted Milk. (Name since copied by others.) Its nutritive value, digestibility and ease of preparation (by simply stirring in water) and the fact that it keeps in any climate, has proved of much value to mankind as an ideal food-drink from infancy to old age.

A little roller from the bat of Valodin that went through "Cotton" Schuler like water in a selve in the final inning of the game between the Solvays and Drews at the Seventeenth street grounds last evening, paved the way for the former's victory 4 to 3, and brought sorrow and gloom to many in the crowd and joy and happiness to many others. As is generally the case when these two aggregations meet, the battle was full of frills and the fans were given a good run for their money. When the Solvays came in for their seventh turn at bat, they were trailing 3 to 2 and many in the large throng started to leave the "stadium." But when Valodin's life was spared by the kind heartedness of Mr. Schuler, all again took their seats and rewarded by seeing the Solvays pull off a rally that put the game on ice and kept them up to the top of the heap.

But before any more details are cited the fans should understand that the Drews were placed within striking distance of the goal through the Alfonso-Gaston antics of Cooper and Baughman. The latter was playing at short, while "Doc" was cavorting around in the middle precinct. Two men were out and two on the base when Manager "Jack" Hartlage drove a humpback liner to middle, which Baughman could have devoured like a picaninny eating watermelon. But he didn't because he thought Cooper was going to have a head-on with him and the ball dropped between the two chaps, giving the Drews two runs.

Both Rollins, who pitched for the winners and Cottrell, who heaved for the Shoemakers, did their work well and it was too bad that both could not receive credit for a victory. The work of Rollins did not surprise the natives for they have seen him perform on many and sundry occasions and all know he is a hard man to curve. He allowed but five hits and fanned 6 of the enemy, walking but one man. Cottrell allowed but four hits and from the second to the fatal frame was found but for two hits. He allowed the Solvays to make a couple of runs—rather started them plateward. In the fourth, when he lost control long enough to walk James and manager Delamater, who is back from his vacation and feeling like a two year old. This so resulted that the Solvays scored two runs, but it took a couple of wild heaves to annex them. After James and Delamater had walked, Meyers fanned. Here is where the balloon went up. Mr. Rollins hit a roller that was made to order for a double play, but Johnny Grimm first kicked it and then tossed wild to Lewis, who could not reach the chuck. The ball rolled to right and Cooper saw how wide he could throw if plateward and James and Delamater perambulated home. Ward flied to the busy Banfield in middle and Valodin rolled to first.

In the seventh with one run shy, Solvays showed they were possessed of nerves like highwaymen. Valodin was safe on Shuler's misplay. Baughman very adeptly and scientifically sacrificed. Cooper flied to right and it looked rather gloomy for the Solvays. But Benton who had been meeting the ball fairly but not safely, laid the willow against the first pitch Mr. Cottrell sent his way and drove a beauty bright double to middle, scoring Valodin. James came lumbering plateward and with a "chaw" of Red Horse in his mouth big enough for a cow's cud, whaled a single to left that sent Benton in with the winning run. Delamater was safe on Grimm's second error, but Meyers after scaring the right field bleacherites to death, lined to left.

The Drews made all their runs in the third inning. Reider looped the loop to Cooperville and Shuler rolled to Benton. Cottrell was given a walk. Banfield singled to left. Manager Hartlage dropped a Texas leaguer to mid'e, which has been very minutely described and Cottrell came home. Lewis was hit by a pitched ball. Thompson doubled to right, Banfield registering, but Cooper lofted to left.

The outstanding features of the game were pulled by Benton and Cooper both of whom fielded brilliantly and skillfully. Benton started a couple of double plays and completed them on Cooper's relays. They were executed swiftly and accurately and probably saved the Solvays considerable trouble.

SPORT SALAD

Accepting the public interest as the barometer by which the popularity of sports is recorded, the high level of attendance at all sporting events this season indicates excellent weather ahead.

The crowds which have gathered at baseball games, horse races, boxing matches, golf and tennis contests, college and athletic meets and other sports competitions have been larger than the followers of such events have been for many a year at least, and even for many a year at least, and this present season is heralded as the greatest epoch in sporting events thus far in the twentieth century.

Practically every sport was stifled by demands of the war, both on the players and on the public. With peace, all the components which helped put sport on the shelf were removed. Men coming back from service were eager to continue their outdoor life. Golf, for instance is growing in popularity with tremendous strides, and thousands of returned soldiers are now among the club swingers. Women, too, who during the war were actively engaged in work and now feel the need of some recreation which will profitably occupy their time, have taken to the Scotch game.

Baseball also had felt the tremendous force of the popularity wave which has pleasantly engulfed all sports. Record-breaking crowds are attending the games.

Larger crowds than at any time during the past ten years are watching horse races in the east. The average daily attendance, exclusive of Saturdays, run more than 10,000 persons. While in the past decade special races have drawn greater crowds, the sustained attendance at the tracks this season is much bigger than for any year in the last ten. The largest crowd was estimated at 25,000 at Belmont Park on Memorial Day. The Aqueduct races are drawing great throngs, and it is noteworthy that people are eager for the racing even under the restrictions imposed on betting in that section.

On nearly every Saturday, and on opening days of the great turf meetings this season, it has not been unusual to have 25,000 for a ticket count. Many persons are new followers of the racing game, showing that the interest is spreading. In Maryland and Kentucky, where pari-mutuels are in vogue, attendance is limited only by the capacity of the plants. The new interest in the sport has been felt in western racing also, crowds there having outnumbered the standing records of the last ten to fifteen years.

The Willard-Dempsey fight has helped add to the rejuvenation of sport. Small affairs between locally known fighters are not being neglected either by followers of the game, and these matches are well attended. Men who were taught to box while in the army and navy, and who never cared for the sport before, are being added to the ranks of followers of the mitted sport.

But the most noticeable change which has taken place in the public attitude since the war is that, while Americans follow professional sport to a greater extent than before, they are anxious now to get out on a golf course or a tennis court and play the game for itself.

In the trend to play the game for themselves, golf has been sought by more persons than any other sport, except, perhaps, tennis. Thousands of new players have been recruited since spring. The idea of getting out in the open and taking some from of exercise has burrowed under the skin of many men who have learned their lesson from the war.

The surprise among the followers of the courts at the amazing comeback of Mrs. George W. Wightman in regaining the national championship title, which she first held as Miss Hazel Hotchkiss in 1909, 1919 and 1911, has brought to light an even more remarkable record. Walter A. Goss won the Oregon State championship cup outright by his third victory last season. The cup was first offered in 1899, and that year was won by W. A. Bethel, now Gen. Bethel, Judge Advocate of the United States Army in France. He also won in 1902. Goss first won in 1900. Then he again scored a leg in 1906, to finish by taking the trophy as his personal property in 1919. This is believed to be the best established record for nineteen years' continuous playing in the courts of this country.

Fame is indeed fleeting—more fleeting, perhaps, in sports than in other line of endeavor—and the hero of yesterday very often passes unnoticed today, writes a scribe from Cincinnati who goes on to cite the fact that a "year ago Christy Mathewson was an idol of Cincinnati. During the series between the Giants and Reds which ended here recently, he attracted a minimum of attention when he appeared on the field at Redland Park. Following is the comment of the one local newspaper on the treatment accorded Matty while he was here with the New York club: 'Among those present during the last four days has been a tall blonde gentleman with a military bearing. This blonde gentleman has been on the coaching line and moving back and forth in the public gaze nearly all the time—and yet, what has it mattered to the crowd? Only a faint ripple of applause; now and then a hand stretched from a box for a friendly grasp; never a rattling, ringing cheer such as he used to get whenever he even stepped out to direct a runner. Such is baseball fate, such is baseball glory—and such the forgetfulness of the crowds. Christy Mathewson, one year ago the idol of the stands comes and goes unnoticed and ungreeted. Everybody liked him; nobody ever had a word to say against him; he was the pride and pet of the crowds—and today they don't even know, most of them, that he is with the Giant team."

Slim Sallee, who first came up to the major leagues twelve years ago and who is now thirty-seven years old, is still a great pitcher. Recently Sallee beat the Giants in Cincinnati and the performance he gave was as fine as any he has ever given in the course of his long career. The Higginsport sheriff has listed long in the big time show, for the reason that he uses his head as steadily and as skilfully as he does his good left arm. He expends as little energy as possible, and instead of trying to throw every ball past the batter, he concentrates every effort on making his opponent hit it where it may be fielded by one of his supporting cast. Another great factor in the continued success of Sallee is his splendid control.

The great mystery of the Robins' slump that has them on the verge of crashing into the second division is Jeff Pfeffer. The big right hander started the season by hanging up seven consecutive victories. He was defeated for the first time by the Cardinals in a game that went thirteen innings and recently he was conquered for the fourth time in succession by the Pirates. In his losing battles it has been plainly evident that he has completely lost his effectiveness against rival batters.

Uncle Robbie cannot begin to explain the cause of the sudden reversal of form of the hurman who was counted upon as being the most dependable man on the hurling staff of the Flatbush outfit.

Last year when the major leagues had lost many of their best players who entered Uncle Sam's service, the Boston Red Sox and the Chicago Cubs won the pennants and met in the world's series. The Red Sox are struggling along in sixth position while the Cubs recently lost a string of games to the Giants and do not figure as dangerous factors. The Giants and White Sox, who played for the world's title in 1917, are leading the pennant races and may clash again next October.

Trying to judge the day-to-day potentialities of the Giant pitching staff involves quite the most intricate and interesting problem now extant in the national pastime. John McGraw has been trying to do it, but even he has met with only indifferent success of late, and if the problem is a difficult one for him, it is doubly so for the layman. One day one of the Giant slab artists will, figuratively speaking, stand a collection of opposing players on their heads; on another day it requires three or possibly four of them to keep an opposing club from running itself ragged on the base paths.

On the western trip of the Giants their pitchers held up at least fairly well. Of course some of them turned in games that didn't add greatly to their prestige, but on the whole the pitching was pretty good and had it been combined with collective hitting and fielding somewhat more steady than that which was in evidence part of the time, the club would have won more than nine out of fifteen games.

PENNY ANTE — The Downhearted Loser

PAYS TRIBUTE TO EDDIE ROUSH

A Cincinnati sport writer pays the following tribute to Eddie Roush, brilliant centerfielder of the Reds:

"After seeing all the great centerfielders in action for the past thirty years, the writer can only say that Ed. Roush is equal to any of them and better than any other centerfielder of the present time. Tris Speaker is a marvel in the field, as well as at the bat, but he never saw the day when he could go and get them as far away as Roush. Paskert and Williams have done some great work in the middle garden, but they do not equal Roush on all-round brilliancy.

BOXING GAME TO BE REVIVED HERE

May Build New Plant

CINCINNATI, July 23—It is possible that Cincinnati and Covington turf-goers may see an entirely new racing plant next spring. The Kentucky Jockey Club has acquired sufficient acreage in Rosedale on which to erect an entirely new plant if it so desires.

The property acquired is that purchased by Joseph L. Rhinock some three years ago, when he announced that he intended to build a thirty-four acre tract adjoining.

McDaniels Leading Catcher

"Chuck" McDaniels is the leading fielding catcher in the Michigan-Ontario League, where he started this season.

He is playing in old-time style, receiving his pitchers in fine form and throwing to second with a steady and accurate aim. In 19 games he has an average of .990. He has 192 putouts to his credit, 23 assists and only two errors chalked up against him. Battle Creek, Bay City and Flint are also in the league.

Reds Get Outfielder

Scout McCann of the Reds has acquired the services of a sterling young outfielder, he says. He will not divulge his name or the league in which he is playing until all negotiations have been formally closed. Outfielder Zitman of the Reds is to be returned to the minors—probably to Jersey City in the International league.

Dempsey At Salt Lake; To Become "Reel" Actor

Jack Dempsey, new heavyweight champion, has arrived in his home in Salt Lake City. He was given a tremendous reception when he reached that city. After a short stay there he will go to Los Angeles, where he will become a film actor, having signed a contract with one of the leading film-producing firms of the country. Yep, Jack is about to become a "reel" actor.

Clerks Play Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon the second games in the Thursday Afternoon League will be played on the Industrial League diamond, Sixteenth and Findlay streets.

The first game will be between Hurshow's and Criterions, while in the second game the Portsmouth Dry Goods gang will be pitted against the Anderson nine. The P. D. G. nine and Anderson's were the winners last week and this Thursday finds the winners and losers pitted against each other. The managers have strengthened their weak points in the lineups and two fast games are expected.

Dempsey To Show Fistic Wares In Huntington

The Huntington Herald Dispatch Wednesday morning said:

Jack Dempsey, conqueror of Jess Willard, and by virtue of that fact champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, is likely to appear in Huntington in a four or six-round sparring exhibition in the near future. Negotiations to this effect are now in progress between Dempsey's manager and the Tri-State Athletic club. If Dempsey appears here he will spar four rounds with Big Bill Tate, his sparring partner, and perhaps two rounds with Pat Cuneo, champion middleweight of West Virginia.

SIGN CONTRACTS TO PAVE SEVEN STREETS

A short meeting of New Boston council was held Monday night with members Charles Dixon and Pete Wintersole absent. On account of only four members being present, ordinances could not be passed, but contracts were signed with O'Kiley Bros., contractors, for the paving of seven village streets. This work is well underway and with good weather should be finished in record breaking time.

Certificates of indebtedness are to be issued to the amount of $2,000 to pay for sewer construction. In the eastern end of the village. Real estate dealer P. W. Kilcoyne, presented a verbal petition asking for sewers in Peebles addition as he intends to build several houses in that addition and needs sewers to complete the conveniences. Solicitor W. R. Sprague was instructed to bring in legislation authorizing a bond issue of $9,000 to pay for the construction of sewers in Peebles addition.

Arrangements are being made to hold a boxing show in Millbrook Park some time next month.

As boxing played a large part in the war and is also being organized throughout the country, it will no doubt be boosted in this city.

The promoters assure good, clean sport and will only allow high-class reputable boxers to perform here. Any local boxers who wish to take part in the preliminaries should leave their names at The Times office.

An effort will be made to have Davey Sandow, one of the cleverest boxers in Cincinnati, take part in the opening bill.

Devore Has New Job

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., July 23—Josh Devore, who played in four world series and who recently was released by the Indianapolis club of the American Association, has signed to play in the outfield with a local semi-professional team.

John Hendricks, son of Jack Hendricks, manager of the Indianapolis Association club, has joined the same semi-professional team. He will play in the infield.

Rain News Disgusting

Rain again prevented the Reds and Giants from chewing each other Tuesday. If these two teams do not look up shortly the club owners, players and fans will be frantic. Lovers of the game are anxious to see which is the better club. Of course this cannot be done in one day, and the Reds conclude their engagement in Glantville today.

SPARE THE ROD AND SPOIL THE CHILD ..... BY SCHMIDT

RIVAL AT HENLEY REGATTA KEENER THAN EVER

Oxford and Eaton teams at finish of race on Henley.

That sports have come back in England more than ever is shown by the fact that the rivalry at the Henley rowing races was keener than ever. The race between Oxford and Eaton was one of the thrills of the meet. The races for service crews furnished some close and fast events.

THE MOST USEFUL AMERICAN

THOMAS Jefferson is renowned chiefly, indeed, almost solely, because he wrote the Declaration of Independence, and that was enough work for humanity for any ordinary mortal to stop right there. Jefferson, however, was a man of parts and of an infinite variety of talents and accomplishments. So much so, of a verity, that the Huntington Advertiser denominates him as the most useful American citizen and enumerates these achievements as a mere part of his achievements:

Author of the Declaration of Independence.

The first secretary of state of the United States, the second vice president and the third president of the United States.

The father of religious freedom by law.

Author of the first anti-slavery bill.

Inventor of our present decimal money system.

The first American prison reformer.

The first to suggest the Panama canal.

Invented the letter copying press.

Suggested certain improvements in the mold-board plow, and from which the shear plow was envolved.

Started the fashion of wearing trousers instead of knee breeches.

Conducted the purchase from France of the Mississippi valley, since known as the Louisana Purchase, and the most gigantic real estate deal of all times.

The first to advocate courtesy as a national blessing and efficiency measure.

Founded the University of Virginia.

Selected designs for the national capitol at Washington.

Financed the exploration and the original settlement of the far west, including the Lewis and Clark, and that of Lieut. Pike, from which Pike's Peak is named.

The first man to plant rice in America.

Founder of American glass industry.

As an architect he designed his own residence, Monticello; that of the Harrisons on the Lower James river in Virginia, the state capitol building of Virginia, and finally all the buildings for the University of Virginia.

Invented the wheel-barrow, the whirling office-chair, and the camp stool.

The first farmer in America to use the thrashing machine.

The first to use the chicken incubator.

The first prominent American to submit to vaccination.

Founder of our system of fast mails by continuing the mails at night on horseback after the end of the day's stage journey, thereby increasing the speed of the mails from 50 to 100 miles per day.

The first farmer in America to rotate crops.

Founder of the United States secret service.

Established the first mint in the United States at Philadelphia, our coins previously having been struck off in Europe.

Constructed the manual of parliamentary practice, which still governs deliberative bodies.

It might be thought that a man who did all that would receive the universal acknowledgement and goodwill of his fellow-citizens. But Jefferson had no such experience. He was denounced as a crafty and ambitious politician, he met with fierce opposition at every turn and he was villified and abused—well, just like Woodrow Wilson is.

Mr. Joseph I. Doran, for many years General Counsel of Norfolk & Western Railway Company, died in Philadelphia yesterday. This quiet, unassuming man was the wisdom that shaped the legal policies of that corporation and its method of dealing with the public. The impress of his personality is felt wherever the Norfolk & Western has its lines. The passing of such a valuable man is most regrettable.

What with her gambling raids, her boot-legging crusades and her puritannical Sunday, Huntington is growing entirely too good for this mundane sphere and there are signs she feels that way about it herself. At least there is enough disorder to show that a considerable portion of her people long for "the good old days," when she wasn't a bit good.

May be you have been a trifle impatient about the supposed delay in getting The Times' new press installed. As a matter of fact, however, there hasn't been any delay, the work proceeding with remarkable rapidity. You see taking down one big press and putting another in its place, to say nothing of a complicated electrical equipment, is no small job. So we congratulate ourselves we have done quite well and trust our readers have been patient.

An exchange says those of us who are fat and baldheaded can remember a day when girls of fourteen were not conscious of their ankles. That puzzles us. May be it is a suggestion that nowadays girls of over fourteen want us fat and bald headed ones to be conscious of their ankles.

THE WISHING PLANE
BY WILLIS WINTER

Jeanne was so happy, she started crying for joy, when she heard that her father was in a hospital near Paris waiting for her.

Jack and Jane and their friends had fallen in love with the little French girl on their travels while trying to help her find her parents, so they, too, were awfully glad.

As soon as Captain Brave had finished reading the other mail, they all climbed into the airplane and started for the hospital. The big plane circled above it a few times and then alighted in the open field before it.

A large crowd of wounded soldiers rushed out to greet the plane. The children noticed that many of the soldiers hobbled along with only one leg, others had arms missing. Some were blind. Some couldn't walk, but pushed themselves along the walks in chairs. Jeanne wondered if her father would be crippled like these men. Captain Brave helped the folks from the airplane and then inquired the way to the hospital office. One of the soldiers offered to lead the way there.

They never reached the office, though. From a group sitting under one of the huge shade trees along the walk they heard someone call, "Jeanne."

They turned in time to see a great big soldier breaking away from the group and rushing toward them. When Jeanne saw him she uttered a glad cry and ran to meet him. I don't need to tell you that it was her father. She was so happy to see him that she noticed nothing wrong about him until he stooped to pick her up. Then she noticed that only one arm went about her. The other arm was missing. After loads of hugs and kisses, such as you and your daddy would have if you hadn't seen each other for years, Jeanne brought her father over to the children and their friends and told him who they were and how they had been the ones who really found him for her.

The happy party sat down while Jeanne told her father how her friends had found her and how they had been kind enough to take her with them on their travels to help her find her mother and father. Then she told all about her experiences from the time they left Verdun until Captain Brave had received the letter from the doctor at the hospital in Rheims.

"I am awfully glad we found you," said Jeanne to her father, "but wouldn't it have been fine if we had found mother, too, so we could all be together again?"

Then her father, who had been smiling during most of her story, said: "Well, I have a surprise for you. I can't tell you what it is; you will have to wait and see."

It wasn't a long wait, though, for presently along the walk came a woman, and Jeanne knew who she was before she had come within speaking distance. It was Jeanne's mother.

Now everybody was happier than ever, for Jeanne and her mother and father were together again at last, and Jack and Jane and their friends had done what they had hoped to do. They had found Jeanne's parents for her.

New - York - Day - By - Day
BY
O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 23—

I have never been able.
To leave a clothing salesman.
Without buying something.
Hell hath no fury.
Like a scorned clothing salesman.
And so that is why.
I came out of a store.
Down on the avenue yesterday.
Wearing a pongee suit.
After I tried it on.
And looked in the glass.
The salesman plucked at it.
And it looked real knobby.
But when I got outside.
I coughed or something.
And the suit settled down.
Like a circus tent.
When they remove the poles.
And the pearls legs flapped.
Like an awning in a gale.
And around the neck.
It looked exactly like.
A number 14 horse collar.
On about a number 2 horse.
And the sleeves almost.
Trailed along the ground.
And I began to feel.
Like the Straw Man.
In the Wizard Oz.
And young girls laughed.
And dogs barked.
As I passed by.
And about half way home.
There was a sudden shower.
And there is nothing.
In all this world.
That will stick to you.
Like a wet pongee suit.
And by the time.
I got home.
There wasn't a flap left.
In the pants legs.
And the coat around the neck.
Choked me so I whistled.
Trying to breathe.
And the vest.
Got ambitious.
And filled up my chest.
And I had to get.
Percival, the hired man.
To cut the darn thing off.
With a pair of shears.
And I've just sent it.
To Harry Houdini.
To see if he can escape.
From it while it's wet.

DOC KOKO'S KOLUM

A Shrinking Daisy

When Daisy dresses for the dance,
In chiffon, silk and lace,
And comes to show me how she looks
With smiles and dimpling face—
Tho' even while admiringly
I view her pretty gown
I feel a chill along my spine
Go creeping up and down.

For Daisy's skirt is rapidly
Receding to her knees.
Her waist—especially in the back—
Is shrinking by degrees;
And when they meet, those two extremes
Of fashion scant and sleazy!
Then Mother Eve will not, I fear,
Have anything on Daisy!
—Minna Irving in Cartoon's Magazine.

"Not All Dead Yet"

Professor Isiah O. Wisem,
M. S., Ph. D., D. D. S.,
Spent his lifetime in writing a treatise
Named "Danger of Up to Up Kiss."
He counted the number of microbes,
As found on one lip in a day;
He had a long list of diseases
Which one might contract in this way.

He never had these diseases,
He had never kissed in his life;
Could nay fact ever be plainer?
(Yet some poor souls pitied his wife.)
He died at the sleek age of forty—
This man who had never been kissed.
His book is forgot but the sad part, I wot,
Is, he never will know what he's missed!—Penn State Froth.

Are There Any?

The attorney was dumbfounded. "Madam," he explained, "you have had three husbands, and every one of them either went crazy or turned out to be worthless. Yet you are thinking of marrying again?"

Fair Client—"Yes sir; I want a safe and sane fourth."

The Way of a Woman.

He had been to a stag dinner and his wife wanted to hear all about it when he got home.

"Well," he said, "One rather odd thing occurred. Jim Blankton got up and left the table because some fellow told a story he didn't approve of."

"How noble of Mr. Blankton," exclaimed his wife, "and—what was the story John?"—Exchange.

Duly Explained.

"Where are you going, my pretty maid?"

"I'm not a pretty maid," she said.

"Gadzooks! No prettier have I e'er paid
Heart's homage to, i' faith!" he said.

"Aye, I knew I'm pretty—but no maid:
I—I am a widow, sir" she said.

Socially Successful

Mr. Brown's colored valet desired to entertain some of his friends, and his master contributed generously to the cause. The next morning Mr. Brown asked Mose if his party had been a success. Mose drew himself up a couple of inches above his usual height.

"Was it a success, suh?" he exclaimed delightedly. "Well suh, it sho' was! Dey was sixteen invited, and twenty dat come!"—Exchange.

Easily Satisfied

An old darkey, sent to a hospital, upon his arrival, was placed in a ward, says Harper's, and one of the nurses put a thermometer in his mouth to take his temperature.

When the doctor made his rounds he said:

"Well, mam' how do you feel?"

"I feels right tol'able, sur."

"Have you had anything to eat yet?"

"Yessuh. I had a little."

"What did you have?"

"A lady done gimme a piece of glass ter suck, suh."—Cincinnati Post.

Wise Salesman

Mr. Babcock was driving through the country, trying to buy a mule. He was directed to a colored man who had one for sale.

"Do you want to sell that mule?" asked Mr. Babcock.

"Yas, suh," replied the owner. "May I ask whar yo' live, sah?"

"What has that got to do with it?" queried Mr. Babcock.

"Well, explained the negro, "I ain't going ter transfer dat mule to nobody dat lives less than 200 miles away from here. When I sells dat mule I wants to git rid not only of de mule, but of all conversation appertainin' to him."—Harper's Magazine.

The Cootie

In 1910 when Henry Ford
Put out the first "Tin Lizzie,"
On every side sensation wide
Made everybody dizzy.
No greater joy to humble folk
Has ever yet been given
Than that the "Flivver" has produced
Wherever it has "flivven."
But Henry now has quit it cold,
Because he thinks his duty
Is to produce a cheaper bus
Which folks will call "The Cootie."
—Los Angeles Times.

He Didn't Mind

Mrs. Youngly had forbidden her son, Willie, to play with Freddy, but Willie didn't mind not he.

"Willie," cried Mrs. Youngly when she saw her offspring calmly playing in Freddy's company, "I want you."

Willie heard her, but continued to play.

"Willie!" Come here at once! At once—do you hear?"

Willie pondered.

"Just a minute, Freddy," he said, turning to his friend. "I'm going in to get spanked. Wait for me; I'll be out in five minutes."

Easily Utilized

"See that man over there? He's a bombastic ass, a wind-jammer nonentity, a conceited humbug, a parasite and an encumbrance to the earth."

"Would you mind writing that for me?"

"Why in the world—"

"He's my husband and I should like to use it on him some time."

Couple Fined

Andrew Sennett and Louise Johnson, the pair who were caught occupying the same room at a downtown hotel and charged with a statutory offense, were fined $25 each by Mayor Kaps in police court Tuesday evening, after hearing the evidence of the arresting officers. The couple paid up and went their way.

ONE MAN IS KILLED AND SEVERAL SEVERELY INJURED, 2,000 SOLDIERS ON GUARD

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—Although there was sporadic firing of firearms in some of the negro districts until early this morning, the major casualties in last night's clashes between whites and negroes consisted of only one white man killed and another probably fatally wounded. Scores were injured in varying degrees as a result of blows of fists, clubs and stones and the wielding of knives, but in none of these cases were the wounds expected to be fatal.

The man killed last night, Isaac R. Halbfinger, and the seriously wounded man, Benjamin Belmont, both members of the defense guard, were shot down on the street by a negro while doing duty in one of the black districts.

Despite the fact the capital was an armed camp, the fourth night of the race warfare was less violent than Monday when four persons were killed outright and nearly a dozen seriously hurt. Feeling, which was inflamed by reported attacks upon whites by negroes throughout the day, was no less bitter, but an all night rain and the presence of 2,000 heavily armed soldiers, sailors and marines doing duty with the 700 police and several hundred home defense guards acted as a deterrent upon any attempt at organized mob violence.

The closing of pool rooms, moving picture houses and other places where crowds of negroes might be expected to gather and the policy of the police and military to keep everybody moving, enabled the authorities to keep the situation well in hand.

SPECIAL REGIMENTS OF MARRIED SOLDIERS

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—Special regiments, composed largely, if not entirely, of married men, probably will result from the war department policy announced today regarding the disposition of regulars who are returning to this country with French wives. Orders have been sent to commanding officers of debarkation ports to transfer such men and their wives to either Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia; Fort Ethan Allen, Vermont, or Fort Myer, Virginia, when they belong to the cavalry, and to Madison Barracks, New York, in the case of infantrymen.

Tentatively selected as the units which are to become the F. F. V. (father of families veterans), of the military establishment are the third cavalry at Fort Myer and Ethan Allen, the sixth cavalry at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia, and an infantry regiment yet to be named, at the New York post. The regimental commander in each instance has been instructed to provide facilities which will enable the soldier to take care of his new responsibilities. Official estimates are that 20,000 American soldiers married foreign brides. A majority of these men were emergency enlistments, however, and it is believed their regiments will be sufficient to accommodate the regulars. Enlisted men in the staff corps will be ordered to report to Washington temporarily and will be distributed from that point to specially selected billets.

WIFE MURDERER IS SENTENCED

HAMILTON, O., July 23.—"I'm sorry I did it," was the ejaculation of Germaine Schmidt, 28, a German alien, when sentenced late yesterday to an indeterminate sentence in the Ohio penitentiary for the murder of his wife, Pauline, with a revolver, January 21, last. Urges Adoption Of League Of Nations

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23—Debate on the peace treaty in the senate was resumed with an address by Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, who urged that the League of Nations' covenant be accepted without any such amendments or reservations as would "alter the splendid purposes of the covenant."

Senator McNary was followed by Senator Johnson, Democrat, North Dakota, who declared that "the United States, by refusing to join the League of Nations, not only would endanger its own safety, but would break faith with its associates in the war.

"Our commerce extends to the limits of the entire globe," said Senator Johnson. "Have you ever considered the position of danger we would be in, if the great commercial nations enter the league and we remain aloof? Why should we not be regarded with enmity and suspicion? Our great commercial interests, rich lands, favored geographical position, would soon place us in a position of standing alone. The time might come when there would be a vast combination against us to refill their treasuries and discharge their debts."

Opponents of the league have made many misrepresentations, Senator Johnson declared. Its provisions, he said, are "reasonably clear and plain," and generally satisfactory, although, he added, virtually every one favors some changes.

Record Sale Of Tickets Marks Opening Day Of Chautauqua

The Redpath Chautauqua opened Monday afternoon, on the Union street school grounds, with the largest ticket sale in the history of Portsmouth Chautauqua offerings. Very few season tickets were available last evening. Larger crowds than in any preceding year are attending. It was necessary to use over 300 chairs last evening to accommodate the patrons, who could not find the regular seats.

WEDNESDAY'S PROGRAM
Morning
Children's Hour.
Lecture.
Afternoon
Children's Hour.
Lecture—"Burbank's Wonderland," Henry A. Adrian.
Evening
Drama: "The Melting Pot."

The afternoon performance begins at 3 o'clock, and the evening's attraction begins at 8 o'clock.

"I love England for it's old ruins. America has no old ruins, except Bob La Follette and William Jennings Bryan."

The weakness of our Christian conscience allowed us to sit by and utter no protest when 3,000,000 defenseless Armenians were tortured and killed by the Turks."

"The criminal law of America is a joke."

"We need a League of Homes before a League of Nations."

"The churches of this great country leave it to the fraternal orders to visit the sick, provide for widows and the hungry."

"It is no worse for professional gamblers to play for money than it is for a member of the church to play for a cut-glass dish or silk hose."

Huge Audience Greets Lecturer

The above statements are highlights from the address of Colonel Lou J. Beuchamp, who appeared before an immense audience of the Redpath Chautauqua last evening. He chose as his subject his celebrated "The 1919 Edition of the Sunny Side."

The speaker became acquainted with the large crowd in front of him by a series of uproariously funny stories, that kept the audience continually laughing. Colonel Beauchamp has a way of bringing a lesson from each laugh he gets. From a happy woman in Indiana, who leads a life of comfortable enjoyment, he found the code of right living. It is: "Do not worry about the things you can help, or the things you cannot help."

Finding himself upon a basis of mutual understanding with the appreciative Portsmouth people present, the speaker of the evening settled down to his real message of the evening. Many startling facts were brought forth in the next half hour that caused the audience to wait expectantly for each conclusion.

"Do you know that the churches of the United States from the years 1906 to 1916, advanced in membership less than 2 percent? The United States, upholder of righteousness and the hope of the world, leads the world in murder. Italy, famous for the passionate temperament of its people, yielded this place to us three years ago. To every 1,000,000 people in this country, there are 130 murders. The percentage increase every year, and will keep on increasing until our criminal laws are revised, or made over entirely. Out of 14 convicted murderers in England, 12 were hanged. In Chicago, out of 248 convicted murderers only 2 were electrocuted. A clever lawyer can drive a coach and four through the loop-holes in our criminal laws," said Colonel Beauchamp.

Many Murderers Are Under 21

"Seventy-five percent of the murderers in the U. S. are under 21 years of age. The boys as young as 12 years are the ones who kill for petty gain, not the older men. If I were the writer of "The Melting Pot," I would write another act since the war and put a lid on it. For the next 20 years we should allow no aliens to enter America who did not first sign an agreement to become a citizen. If there is not enough red in the star-spangled banner for some people, they should be made to see red in front of a firing squad.

"The churches in this country are losing out because the people will not go and listen any longer to lessons that fitted the world 3,000 years ago. They want to be twentieth century Christians with modern lessons from life. It is left to the fraternal orders, such as the Elks, K. of C., Moose, Eagles, etc., to take the place of the church in caring for the poor, the widows and the fatherless."

In his walk along "The Highway of Human Life," the speaker deplored the weakness of the Christian conscience of America that allowed the Turks spurred on by the Huns to exterminate from the world 3,000,000 defenseless Armenians. Acting on the theory that the home is the backbone of the nation, he called upon the parents present to preserve the sanctity of their homes and so safeguard their children and country. In scathing terms he ridiculed the mother who played cards in the evening and allowed the children to run about town unescorted.

Colonel Beauchamp's lecture will not soon be forgotten in this city. A thorough Christian himself, modern in every sense of the word, his earnest message for a reformed code of living made a personal appeal to all who were fortunate enough to hear him.

The afternoon performance of the Redpath Chautauqua, Monday, gave promise of wonderful things to come. The Althea Violin Chorus aided by Miss Bonnie Brooks, entertainer, was adapted to the weather and certainly appreciated. Six charmingly frocked girls with their "singing" violins, appeared before the audience promptly at 3 o'clock and straightway captured its united heart, holding it in captivity until the final number. The young ladies, dressed in shepherdress costumes of a by-gone period looked as if they had just stepped from the design of a piece of Dresden china. Tiny puffed sleeves, daintily flowered bodice and flouncing, caught in a butterfly bow at the waist, with a ruffled skirt of white, made up each costume.

Miss Brooks, a versatile entertainer, sang in Italian, French, and burlesque German. Accompanied by Miss Mary Anderson. Her dramatic impersonation of "Madam Butterfly" made a vivid impression. Dressed in a Japanese costume of black and rose, she was by turns gaily lovable, tragically unhappy, and sublimely happy, as she led the audience through the life of the little maiden who "died with honor when she could no longer live with honor."

The program of the Althea Chorus was a delightful intermingling of violin, piano, and vocal music, besides elocutionary skits by Miss Brooks aided by the company.

The success they established in the afternoon followed them in the evening when they presented another varied musical program, as an introduction to the lecturer, Colonel Lou Beauchamp. The chorus consisted of Miss Mary Anderson, Beulah Marty, Bonnie Brooks, Gertrude Gravette, Gladys Blakely and Catherine McIntyre.

TRUCK AND AUTO IN COLLISION

A Scripps-Booth touring car owned by William Kirby of 1815 Robinson avenue was badly damaged about eight o'clock this morning when a truck owned and driven by George Lauder of New Boston collided with it at Ninth and Waller streets. Lauder was going out Waller toward the N. and W. station and Miss Grace Kirby, driving the touring car, was going west on Ninth street.

The front end of the car was wrecked, the righ front wheel being torn off, the right front part of the frame bent, radiator damaged, axle bent, and fender mashed. The machine was taken to the Reliable garage for repairs. Miss Kirby claims that the truck driver did not stop to inquire if anyone was injured. Miss Mary Kirby, aged five years, suffered a bleeding of the nose when thrown against a seat of the machine when the cars collided.

RUNS AWAY WITH CIRCUS; GLAD TO RETURN

A circus "career" that loomed up big for James Thomas, colored boy, when he left here Sunday morning early with Gentry Brothers circus was short-lived as he was found in Williamson, W. Va., Monday by his father, John Thomas of Sixteenth street and was soon on his way back to Peerless Portsmouth.

Thomas, who is about sixteen years old, spent considerable of his time around the circus Saturday when the show was in York park. He worked hard and with such earnest efforts displayed, he did not have any trouble in "catching on" with the big boss.

His father and a brother, Bishop Thomas learned Sunday that the boy had left with the show and on obtaining information where the circus was scheduled to show Monday left for that city. A search for the circus grounds was successful and after a talk from the father the boy was willing to return home and give up his "show life."

Splendid Way To Reduce Your Weight

There is perhaps no one thing that so plainly shows the passing of our youth as the horrible tendency to put on too much weight after we have reached the age of 25 or 30 years. However young your faces may appear, the sagging, flabby figure and forty inch waist "gives us away."

The cause of this over stoutness is that our stomachs convert the food we eat into fat because there is not enough oxygen in the blood to produce a proper combustion to destroy the excess fatty tissue. Fat people will be pleased to learn of a simple home method that is wonderfully efficient in reducing weight, quickly and easily without a starving diet, violent massage or strenuous exercise. Go to any drug store and get a box of Phynola; take five grains after each meal and at bed time. This treatment will often give quick relief from overburdening fat. Phynola taken at meal time assists the stomach in giving you the benefit of the food you eat; at the same time dissolves the fatty tissues from any part of the body where there is excessive fat. By this method many have reduced their weight a pound a day and there is no flabbiness left. Fisher and Streich Pharmacy, opposite post office can supply you with the genuine Phynola at a small cost.

BERLIN, Tuesday, July 22—(By the Associated Press)—Ten persons were shot during disorders which attended the breaking up of a majority Socialist meeting by communists and Spartacans here yesterday. Those attending the meeting, which was held in the trades union building, attempted to lynch the man who fired the shots, but he was saved by hospital helpers who were in the building.

ONE MAN IS KILLED AND SEVERAL SEVERELY INJURED, 2,000 SOLDIERS ON GUARD

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—Although there was sporadic firing of firearms in some of the negro districts until early this morning, the major casualties in last night's clashes between whites and negroes consisted of only one white man killed and another probably fatally wounded. Scores were injured in varying degrees as a result of blows of fists, clubs and stones and the wielding of knives, but in none of these cases were the wounds expected to be fatal.

The man killed last night, Isaac R. Hollsinger, and the seriously wounded man, Benjamin Belmont, both members of the defense guard, were shot down on the street by a negro while doing duty in one of the black districts.

Despite the fact the capital was an armed camp, the fourth night of the race warfare was less violent than Monday when four persons were killed outright and nearly a dozen seriously hurt. Feeling, which was inflamed by reported attacks upon whites by negroes throughout the day, was no less bitter, but an all night rain and the presence of 2,000 heavily armed soldiers, sailors and marines doing duty with the 700 police and several hundred home defense guards acted as a deterrent upon any attempt at organized mob violence.

The closing of pool rooms, moving picture houses and other places where crowds of negroes might be expected to gather and the police and military to keep everybody moving, enabled the authorities to keep the situation well in hand.

INVESTIGATING WRECK OF HUGE DIRIGIBLE

CHICAGO, July 23.—Federal, state and city officials today began a searching investigation of the explosion of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company's dirigible balloon, which Monday resulted in eleven deaths and the injury of 28 others, and wrecked the interior of the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank.

A little roller from the bat of Valodin that went through "Cotton" Schuler like water in a seive in the final inning of the game between the Solvays and Drews at the Seventeenth street grounds last evening, paved the way for the former's victory 4 to 3 and brought sorrow and gloom to many in the crowd and joy and happiness to many others. As is generally the case when these two aggregations meet, the battle was full of frills and the fans were given a good run for their money. When the Solvays came in for their seventh turn at bat, they were trailing 3 to 2 and many in the large throng started to leave the "stadium." But when Valodin's life was spared by the kind heartedness of Mr. Schuler, all again took their seats and rewarded by seeing the Solvays pull off a rally that put the game on ice and kept them up to the top of the heap.

But before any more details are cited the fans should understand that the Drews were placed within striking distance of the goal through the Alfonse-Gaston antics of Cooper and Baughman. The latter was playing at short, while "Doc" was cavorting around in the middle precinct. Two men were out and two on the base when Manager "Jack" Hartlage drove a hump-back liner to middle, which Baughman could have devoured like a pickaniny eating watermelon. But he didn't because he thought Cooper was going to have a head-on with him and the ball dropped between the two chaps, giving the Drews two runs.

Both Rollins who pitched for the winners and Cottrell, who heaved for the Shoemakers, did their work well and it was too bad that both could not receive credit for a victory. The work of Rollins did not surprise the natives for they have seen him perform on many and sundry occasions and all know he is a hard man to curry. He allowed but five hits and fanned 6 of the enemy, walking but one mon. Cottrell allowed but four hits and from the second to the fatal frame was found but for two hits. He allowed the Solvays to make a couple of runs—rather started them plateward, in the fourth, when he lost control long enough to walk James and manager Delamater, who is back from his vacation and feeling like a two year old. This so resulted that the Solvays scored two runs, but it took a couple of wild heaves to annex them. After James and Delamater had walked, Meyers fanned. Here is where the balloon went up. Mr. Rollins hit a roller that was made to order for a double play, but Johnny Grimm first kicked it and then tossed wild to Lewis, who could not reach the chuck. The ball rolled to right and Cooper saw how wide he could throw it plateward and James and Delamater perambulated home. Ward flied to the busy Banfield in middle and Valodin rolled to first.

In the seventh with one run shy, Solvays showed they were possessed of nerves like highwaymen. Valodin was safe on Shuler's misplay. Baughman very adeptly and scientifically sacrificed. Cooper flied to right and it looked rather gloomy for the Solvays. But Benton who had been meeting the ball fairly but not safely, laid the willow against the first pitch Mr. Cottrell sent his way and drove a beauty bright double to middle, scoring Valodin. James came lumbering plateward and with a "chaw" of Red Horse in his mouth big enough for a cow's cud, whaled a single to left that sent Benton in with the winning run. Delamater was safe on Grimm's second error, but Meyers after scaring the right field bleacherites to death, lined to left.

The Drews made all their runs in the third inning. Reider looped the loop to Cooperville and Shuler rolled to Benton. Cottrell was given a walk. Banfield singled to left. Manager Hartlage dropped a Texas leaguer to middle, which has been very minutely described and Cottrell came home. Lewis was hit by a pitched ball. Thompson doubled to right; Banfield registering, but Cooper lofted to left.

The outstanding features of the game were pulled by Benton and Cooper both of whom fielded brilliantly and skillfully. Benton started a couple of double plays and completed them on Cooper's relays. They were executed swiftly and accurately and probably saved the Solvays considerable trouble.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO EDDIE ROUSH

A Cincinnati sport writer pays the following tribute to Eddie Roush, brilliant centerfielder of the Reds:

"After seeing all the great centerfielders in action for the past thirty years, the writer can only say that Ed. Roush is equal to any of them and better than any other centerfielder of the present time. Tris. Speaker is a marvel in the field, as well as at the bat, but he never saw the day when he could go and get them as far away as Roush. Paskert and Williams have done some great work in the middle garden, but they do not equal Roush on all-round brilliancy.

SPORT SALAD

Accepting the public interest as the barometer by which the popularity of sports is recorded, the high level of attendance at all sporting events this season indicates excellent weather ahead.

The crowds which have gathered at baseball games, horse races, boxing matches, golf and tennis contests, college and athletic meets and other sports competitions have been larger than the followers of such events have seen for many a year at least, and this present season is heralded as the greatest epoch in sporting events thus far in the twentieth century.

Practically every sport was stilled by demands of the war, both on the players and on the public. With peace, all the components which helped put sport on the shelf were removed. Men coming back from service were eager to continue their outdoor life. Golf, for instance, is growing in popularity with tremendous strides, and thousands of returned soldiers are now among the club swingers. Women, too, who during the war were actively engaged in work and now feel the need of some recreation which will profitably occupy their time, have taken to the Scotch game.

Baseball also has felt the tremendous force of the popularity wave which has pleasantly engulfed all sports. Record-breaking crowds are attending the games.

Larger crowds than at any time during the past ten years are watching horse races in the east. The average daily attendance, exclusive of Saturdays, run more than 10,000 persons. While in the past decade special races have drawn greater crowds, the sustained attendance at the tracks this season is much bigger than for any year in the last ten. The largest crowd was estimated at 25,000 at Belmont Park on Memorial Day. The Aqueduct races are drawing great throngs, and it is noteworthy that people are eager for the racing even under the restrictions imposed on betting in that section.

On nearly every Saturday, and on opening days of the great turf meetings this season, it has not been unusual to have 25,000 for a ticket count. Many persons are new followers of the racing game, showing that the interest is spreading. In Maryland and Kentucky, where pari-mutuels are in vogue, attendance is limited only by the capacity of the plants. The new interest in the sport has been felt in western racing also, crowds there having outnumbered the standing records of the last ten to fifteen years.

The Willard-Dempsey fight has helped add to the rejuvenation of sport. Small affairs between locally known fighters are not being neglected either by followers of the game, and these matches are well attended. Men who were taught to box while in the army and navy, and who never cared for the sport before, are being added to the ranks of followers of the mitted sport.

But the most noticeable change which has taken place in the public attitude since the war is that, while Americans follow professional sport to a greater extent than before, they are anxious now to get out on a golf course or a tennis court and play the game for itself.

In the trend to play the game for themselves golf has been sought by more persons than any other sport, except, perhaps, tennis. Thousands of new players have been recruited since spring. The idea of getting out in the open and taking some form of exercise has burrowed under the skin of many men who have learned their lesson from the war.

The surprise among the followers of the courts at the amazing comeback of Mrs. George W. Wightman in regaining the national championship title, which she first held as Miss Hazel Hotchkiss in 1909, 1910 and 1911, has brought to light an even more remarkable record. Walter A. Goss won the Oregon State championship cup outright by his third victory last season. The cup was first offered in 1899, and that year was won by W. A. Bethel, now Gen. Bethel, Judge Advocate of the United States Army in France. He also won in 1902. Goss first won in 1900. Then he again scored a leg in 1906, to finish by taking the trophy as his personal property in 1918. This is believed to be the best established record for nineteen years' continuous playing in the courts of this country.

Fame is indeed fleeting—more fleeting, perhaps, in sports than in other line of endeavor—and the hero of yesterday very often passes unnoticed today, writes a scribe from Cincinnati who goes on to cite the fact that a year ago Christy Mathewson was an idol of Cincinnati. During the series between the Giants and Reds which ended here recently, he attracted a minimum of attention when he appeared on the field at Redland Park. Following is the comment of the one local newspaper on the treatment accorded Matty while he was here with the New York club: "Among those present during the last four days has been a tall blonde gentleman with a military bearing. This blonde gentleman has been on the coaching line and moving back and forth in the public gaze nearly all the time—and yet, what has it mattered to the crowd? Only a faint ripple of applause now and then; a hand stretched from a box for a friendly grasp; never a rattling, ringing cheer such as he used to get whenever he even stepped out to direct a runner. Such is baseball fate, such is baseball glory—and such the forgetfulness of the crowds. Christy Mathewson, one year ago the idol of the stands, comes and goes unnoticed and unheralded. Everybody liked him; nobody ever had a word to say against him; he was the pride and pet of the crowds—and today they don't even know, most of them, that he is with the Giant team."

BOXING GAME TO BE REVIVED HERE

Arrangements are being made to hold a boxing show in Millbrook Park some time next month.

As boxing played a large part in the war and is also being organized throughout the country, it will no doubt be boosted in this city.

The promoters assure good, clean sport and will only allow high-class reputable boxers to perform here. Any local boxers who wish to take part in the preliminaries should leave their names at The Times office.

An effort will be made to have Davey Sandow, one of the cleverest boxers in Cincinnati, take part in the opening bill.

May Build New Plant

CINCINNATI, July 23—It is possible that Cincinnati and Covington turf-goers may see an entirely new racing plant next spring. The Kentucky Jockey Club has acquired sufficient acreage in Rosedale on which to erect an entirely new plant if it so desires.

The property acquired is that purchased by Joseph L. Rhinock some three years ago, when he announced that he intended to build a thirty-four-acre tract adjoining.

McDaniels Leading Catcher

"Chuck" McDaniels is the leading fielding catcher in the Michigan-Ontario League, where he started this season.

He is playing in old-time style, receiving his pitchers in fine form and throwing to second with a steady and accurate aim. In 19 games he has an average of .950. He has 132 putouts to his credit, 23 assists and only two errors chalked up against him. Battle Creek, Bay City and Flint are also in the League.

Reds Get Outfielder

Scout McCann of the Reds has acquired the services of a sterling young outfielder, he says. He will not divulge his name or the league in which he is playing until all negotiations have been formally closed. Outfielder Zitman of the Reds is to be returned to the minors probably to Jersey City in the International league.

Dempsey At Salt Lake; To Become "Reel" Actor

Jack Dempsey, new heavyweight champion, has arrived in his home in Salt Lake City. He was given a tremendous reception when he reached that city. After a short stay there he will go to Los Angeles, where he will become a film actor, having signed a contract with one of the leading film-producing firms of the country. Yep, Jack is about to become a "reel" actor.

Clerks Play Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon the second games in the Thursday Afternoon League will be played on the Industrial League diamond, Sixteenth and Findlay streets.

The first game will be between Horchow's and Criterions, while in the second game the Portsmouth Dry Goods gang will be pitted against the Anderson nine. The P. D. G. nine and Anderson's were the winners last week and this Thursday finds the winners and losers pitted against each other. The managers have strengthened their weak points in the lineups and two fast games are expected.

Dempsey To Show Fistic Wares In Huntington

The Huntington Herald Dispatch Wednesday morning said:

Jack Dempsey, conqueror of Jess Willard, and by virtue of that fact champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, is likely to appear in Huntington in a four or six-round sparring exhibition in the near future. Negotiations to this effect are now in progress between Dempsey's manager and the Tri-State Athletic club. If Dempsey appears here he will spar four rounds with big Bill Tate, his sparring partner, and perhaps two rounds with Pal Caseys, champion middleweight of West Virginia.

SIGN CONTRACTS TO PAVE SEVEN STREETS

A short meeting of New Boston council was held Monday night with members Charles Dixon and Pete Winterzole absent. On account of only four members being present, ordinances could not be passed, but contracts were signed with Kiley Bros. contractors, for the paving of seven village streets. This work is well underway and with good weather should be finished in record breaking time.

Certificates of indebtedness are to be issued to the amount of $2000 to pay for sewer construction in the eastern end of the village. Real estate dealer P. W. Kilcoyne, presented a verbal petition asking for sewers in Peebles addition as he intends to build several houses in that addition and needs sewers to complete the conveniences. Solicitor W. R. Sprague was instructed to bring in legislation authorizing a bond issue of $2000 to pay for the construction of sewers in Peebles addition.

Devore Has New Job

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., July 23—Josh Devore, who played in four world series and who recently was released by the Indianapolis club of the American Association, has signed to play in the outfield with a local semi-professional team.

John Hendricks, son of Jack Hendricks, manager of the Indianapolis Association club, has joined the same semi-professional team. He will play in the infield.

Rain News Disgusting

Rain again prevented the Reds and Giants from clawing each other Tuesday. If these two teams do not lock up shortly the club owners, players and fans will be frantic. Lovers of the game are anxious to see which is the better club. Of course this cannot be done in one day, and the Reds conclude their engagement in Giantville today.

started the season by hanging up seven consecutive victories. He was defeated for the first time by the Cardinals in a game that went thirteen innings and recently he was conquered for the fourth time in succession by the Pirates. In his losing battles it has been plainly evident that he has completely lost his effectiveness against rival batters.

Uncle Robbie cannot begin to explain the cause of the sudden reversal of form of the boxman who was counted upon as being the most dependable man on the hurling staff of the Flatbush outfit.

Last year when the major leagues had lost many of their best players who entered Uncle Sam's service, the Boston Red Sox and the Chicago Cubs won the pennants and met in the world's series. The Red Sox are struggling along in sixth position while the Cubs recently lost a string of games to the Giants and do not figure as dangerous factors. The Giants and White Sox, who played for the world's title in 1917, are leading the pennant races and may clash again next October.

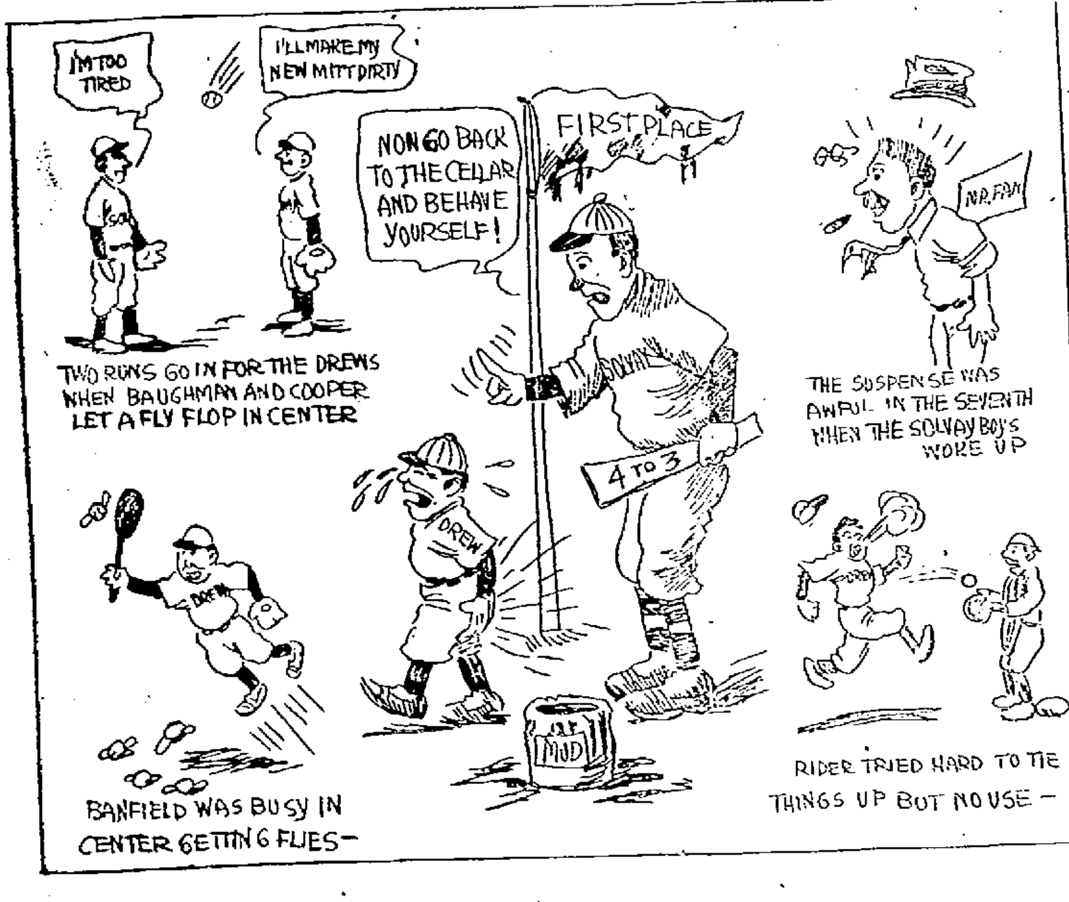

Trying to judge the day-to-day potentialities of the Giant pitching staff involves quite the most intricate and interesting problem now extant in the national pastime. John McGraw has been trying to do it, but even he has met with only indifferent success of late, and if the problem is a difficult one for him, it is doubly so for the layman. One day one of the Giant slab artists will, figuratively speaking, stand a collection of opposing players on their heads; on another day it requires three or possibly four of them to keep an opposing club from running itself ragged on the base paths.

On the western trip of the Giants their pitchers held up at least fairly well. Of course some of them turned in games that didn't add greatly to their prestige, but on the whole the pitching was pretty good and had it been combined with collective hitting and fielding somewhat more steady than that which was in evidence part of the time, the club would have won more than nine out of fifteen games.

THE MOST USEFUL AMERICAN

THOMAS Jefferson is renowned chiefly, indeed, almost solely, because he wrote the Declaration of Independence, and that was enough work for humanity for any ordinary mortal to stop right there. Jefferson, however, was a man of parts and of an infinite variety of talents and accomplishments. So much so, of a verity, that the Huntington Advertiser denominates him as the most useful American citizen and enumerates these achievements as a mere part of his achievements:

Author of the Declaration of Independence.

The first secretary of state of the United States, the second vice president and the third president of the United States.

The father of religious freedom by law.

Author of the first anti-slavery bill.

Inventor of our present decimal money system.

The first American prison reformer.

The first to suggest the Panama canal.

Invented the letter copying press.

Suggested certain improvements in the mold-board plow, and from which the shear plow was evolved.

Started the fashion of wearing trousers instead of knee breeches.

Conducted the purchase from France of the Mississippi valley, since known as the Louisana Purchase, and the most gigantic real estate deal of all times.

The first to advocate courtesy as a national blessing and efficiency measure.

Founded the University of Virginia.

Selected designs for the national capitol at Washington.

Financed the exploration and the original settlement of the far west, including the Lewis and Clark, and that of Lieut. Pike, from which Pike's Peak is named.

The first man to plant rice in America.

Founder of American glass industry.

As an architect he designed his own residence, Monticello: that of the Harrisons on the Lower James river in Virginia, the state capitol building of Virginia, and finally all the buildings for the University of Virginia.

Invented the wheel-barrow, the whirling office chair, and the camp stool.

The first farmer in America to use the thrashing machine.

The first to use the chicken incubator.

The first prominent American to submit to vaccination.

Founder of our system of fast mails by continuing the mails at night on horseback after the end of the day's stage journey, thereby increasing the speed of the mails from 50 to 100 miles per day.

The first farmer in America to rotate crops.

Founder of the United States secret service.

Established the first mint in the United States at Philadelphia, our coins previously having been struck off in Europe.

Constructed the manual of parliamentary practice, which still governs deliberative bodies.

It might be thought that a man who did all that would receive the universal acknowledgement and goodwill of his fellow-citizens. But Jefferson had no such experience. He was denounced as a crafty and ambitious politician, he met with fierce opposition at every turn and he was villified and abused—well, just like Woodrow Wilson is.

Mr. Joseph I. Doran, for many years General Counsel of Norfolk & Western Railway Company, died in Philadelphia yesterday. This quiet, unassuming man was the wisdom that shaped the legal policies of that corporation and its method of dealing with the public. The impress of his personality is felt wherever the Norfolk & Western has its lines. The passing of such a valuable man is most regrettable.

What with her gambling raids, her boot-legging crusades and her puritannical Sunday, Huntington is growing entirely too good for this mundane sphere and there are signs she feels that way about it herself. At least there is enough disorder to show that a considerable portion of her people long for "the good old days," when she wasn't a bit good.

May be you have been a trifle impatient about the supposed delay in getting The Times' new press installed. As a matter of fact, however, there hasn't been any delay, the work proceeding with remarkable rapidity. You see taking down one big press and putting another in its place, to say nothing of a complicated electrical equipment, is no small job. So we congratulate ourselves we have done quite well and trust our readers have been patient.

An exchange says those of us who are fat and baldheaded can remember a day when girls of fourteen were not conscious of their ankles. That puzzles us. May be it is a suggestion that nowadays girls of over fourteen want us fat and bald headed ones to be conscious of their ankles.

THE WISHING PLANE

BY WILLIS WINTER

Jeanne was so happy, she started crying for joy, when she heard that her father was in a hospital near Paris waiting for her.

Jack and Jane and their friends had fallen in love with the little French girl on their travels while trying to help her find her parents, so they, too, were awfully glad.

As soon as Captain Brave had finished reading the other mail, they all climbed into the airplane and started for the hospital. The big plane circled above it a few times and then alighted in the open field before it.

A large crowd of wounded soldiers rushed out to greet the plane. The children noticed that many of the soldiers hobbled along with only one leg, others had arms missing. Some were blind. Some couldn't walk, but pushed themselves along the walks in chairs. Jeanne wondered if her father would be crippled like these men. Captain Brave helped the folks from the airplane and then inquired the way to the hospital office. One of the soldiers offered to lead the way there.

They never reached the office, though. From a group sitting under one of the huge shade trees along the walk they heard someone call, "Jeanne."

They turned in time to see a great big soldier breaking away from the group and rushing toward them. When Jeanne saw him she uttered a glad cry and ran to meet him. I don't need to tell you that it was her father. She was so happy to see him that she noticed nothing wrong about him until he stooped to pick her up. Then she noticed that only one arm went about her. The other arm was missing. After loads of hugs and kisses, such as you and your daddy would have if you hadn't seen each other for years, Jeanne brought her father over to the children and their friends and told him who they were and how they had been the ones who really found him for her.

The happy party sat down while Jeanne told her father how her friends had found her and how they had been kind enough to take her with them on their travels to help her find her mother and father. Then she told all about her experiences from the time they left Verdun until Captain Brave had received the letter from the doctor at the hospital in Rheims.

"I am awfully glad we found you," said Jeanne to her father, "but wouldn't it have been fine if we had found mother, too, so we could all be together again?"

Then her father, who had been smiling during most of her story, said, "Well, I have a surprise for you. I can't tell you what it is; you will have to wait and see."

It wasn't a long wait, though, for presently along the walk came a woman, and Jeanne knew who she was before she had come within speaking distance. It was Jeanne's mother.

Now everybody was happier than ever, for Jeanne and her mother and father were together again at last, and Jack and Jane and their friends had done what they had hoped to do. They had found Jeanne's parents for her.

Like a scorned clothing salesman.

And so that is why.

I came out of a store.

Down on the avenue yesterday.

Wearing a pongee suit.

After I tried it on.

And looked in the glass.

The salesman plucked at it.

And it looked real knobby.

But when I got outside.

I coughed or something.

And the suit settled down.

Like a circus tent.

When they remove the poles.

And the pants legs flapped.

Like an awning in a gale.

And around the neck.

It looked exactly like.

A number 14 horse collar.

On about a number 2 horse.

And the sleeves almost.

Trailed along the ground.

And I began to feel.

Like the Straw Man.

In the Wizard Oz.

And young girls laughed.

And dogs barked.

As I passed by.

And about half way home.

There was a sudden shower.

And there is nothing.

In all this world.

That will stick to you.

Like a wet pongee suit.

And by the time I

I got home.

There wasn't a thing left.

In the pants legs.

And the coat around the neck.

Choked me so I whistled.

Trying to breathe.

And the vest.

Got ambitious.

And slid up my chest.

And I had to get.

Percival, the hired man.

To cut the darn thing off.

With a pair of shears.

And I've just sent it.

To Harry Houdini.

To see if he can escape.

From it while it's wet.

DOC KOKO'S KOLUM

A Shrinking Daisy

When Daisy dresses for the dance,
In chiffon, silk and lace,
And comes to show me how she looks
With smiles and dimpling face—
Lo! even while admiringly
I view her pretty gown
I feel a chill along my spine
Go creeping up and down.

For Daisy's skirt is rapidly
Receding to her knees,
Her waist—especially in the back—
Is shrinking by degrees;
And when they meet, those two extremes
Of fashion scant and sleazy!
Then Mother Eve will not, I fear,
Have anything on Daisy!

"Not All Dead Yet"

Professor Isiah O. Wisem,
M. S., Ph. D., D. D. S.,
Spent his lifetime in writing a treatise
Named, "Danger of lip to lip kiss."
He counted the number of microbes,
As found on one lip in a day;
He had a long list of diseases
Which one might contract in this way.
He never had these diseases,
He had never kissed in his life;
Could any fact ever be plainer?
(Yet some poor souls pitied his wife.)
He died at the sleek age of forty—
This man who had never been kissed.
His book is forgot but the sad part, I wot,
Is, he never will know what he's missed!—Penn State Froth.

Are There Any?

The attorney was dumbfounded. "Madam," he explained, "you have had three husbands, and every one of them either went crazy or turned out to be worthless. Yet you are thinking of marrying again?"

Fair Client—"Yes sir; I want a safe and sane fourth."

The Way of a Woman.

He had been to a stag dinner and his wife wanted to hear all about it when he got home.

"Well," he said, "One rather odd thing occurred. Jim Blankton got up and left the table because some fellow told a story he didn't approve of."

"How noble of Mr. Blankton," exclaimed his wife, "and—what was the story John?"—Exchange.

Duly Explained.

"Where are you going, my pretty maid?"

"I'm not a pretty maid," she said.

"Gadzooks! No prettier have I ever paid

Heart's homage to, i' faith!" he said.

"Aye, I know I'm pretty—but no maid:

I—I am a widow, sir" she said.

Socially Successful

Mr. Brown's colored valet desired to entertain some of his friends, and his master contributed generously to the cause. The next morning Mr. Brown asked Mose if his party had been a success. Mose drew himself up a couple of inches above his usual height.

"Was it a success, suh!" he exclaimed delightedly. "Well suh,—it—sho' wuz! Dey was sixteen invited, and twenty dat come!"—Exchange.

Easily Satisfied

An old darkey, sent to a hospital, upon his arrival, was placed in a ward, says Harper's, and one of the nurses put a thermometer in his mouth to take his temperature.

When the doctor made his rounds he said:

"Well, man, how do you feel?"

"I feels right tol-able, sur."

"Have you had anything to eat yet?"

"Yessuh, I had a little."

"What did you have?"

"A lady done gimme a piece of glass for suck, suh."—Cincinnati Post.

Wise Salesman

Mr. Babcock was driving through the country, trying to buy a mule. He was directed to a colored man who had one for sale.

"Do you want to sell that mule?" asked Mr. Babcock.

"Yas, sah," replied the owner. "May I ask what yo' like, sah?"

"What has that got to do with it?" queried Mr. Babcock.

"Well, explained the negro, "I ain't gwine ter transfer dat mule to nobody dat lives less than 200 miles away from here. When I sells dat mule I wants to git rid not only of de mule, but of all conversation appertainin' to him."—Harper's Magazine.

ALL DRESSED UP AND NO PLACE TO GO

The Coolie

In 1910 when Henry Ford
Put out the first "Tin Lizzie,"
On every side sensation wide
Made everybody dizzy.
No greater joy to humble folk
Has ever yet been given
Than that the "Flivver" has produced
Wherever it has "flivven."
But Henry now has quit it cold,
Because he thinks his duty
Is to produce a cheaper bus
Which folks will call "The Coolie."

He Didn't Mind

Mrs. Youngly had forbidden her son, Willie, to play with Freddy, but Willie didn't mind not he.

"Willie," cried Mrs. Youngly when she saw her offspring calmly playing in Freddy's company, "I want you."

Willie heard her, but continued to play.

"Willie!" Come here at once! At once—do you hear!"

Willie pondered.

"Just a minute, Freddy," he said, turning to his friend. "I'm going in to get spanked. Wait for me; I'll be out in five minutes."

Easily Utilized

"See that man over there? He's a bombastic ass, a wind-jammer incessantly, a conceited humbug, a parasite and an encumbrance to the earth."

"Would you mind writing that for me?"

"Why in the world—"

"He's my husband and I should like to use it on him some time."

Chautauqua Tent Is Crowded By Appreciative Audiences

Hundreds of Portsmouth people crowding the Redpath Chautauqua tent Tuesday swelled with pride and appreciation of the praise given the old home town by the artists who appeared on the program afternoon and evening. Then wishing to live up to their opinion and make the town as fine as they said—and it is—Frank L. Mulholland got behind any flagrant courage in his lecture and put lots of pep in the word "Good."

TODAY'S PROGRAM

Children's Hour.

Lecture—"Burbank's Wonderland," Henry A Adrian.

Evening

Drama: "The Melting Pot."

The afternoon performance begins at 3 o'clock, and the evening's attraction begins at eight o'clock.

TOMORROW'S PROGRAM

Morning

Children's Hour.

Lecture.

Afternoon

Musical Prelude—MacDermid Company.

Children's Hour.

Lecture.

Evening

Concert—MME. SIBYL SAMMIS MacDERMID.

It is a treat for the children to be within hailing distance of little Miss Edna Gail—the story girl. After her public introduction on the Chautauqua platform Tuesday night, her reputation has been made and the seal of approval placed upon it by the grown-ups who now constitute themselves boosters of her work with the children. "Just to be different", the story lady isn't going to have the time honored pageant—principally because it has happened so often before. But each day the stories will be told to lend enchantment to the tale, costumes of the period in which the story runs will be worn. It is even said that some of the stories will be acted out! Whoops, my dear!

Knight MacGregor, the Scotchman with the wonderful voice was ill on leaving his train in the afternoon and unable to appear for this afternoon program but in the evening he sang, and every heart in the audience sang with him. He has the quality of radiating enjoyment as he sings.

Frank M. Mulholland is not a "smile when life flows along like a song" man, he smiles anyhow and despite the fact that he witnessed most of the horrors of war. And he eulogizes the smile of the American army which spread from the soldier boy's face on down the line through the entire American army and was the index of their courage and good fellowship.

Mr. MacClintock's lecture was on the "Paths of the Greatest Profit." When finished and the big tent emptied, every one left all the better for the fast and urge planted in him to serve or to boost or to cast bread on the waters, and despite the seriousness of the new resolve most every one was smiling.

EXPLOSION ON DIRIGIBLE WAS DUE TO BACK FIRE

CHICAGO, July 23.—The investigation by federal, state and city authorities into the cause of the destruction of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company's dirigible on Monday, which resulted in the death of 12 persons, the injury of 28 others and the wrecking of the interior of the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank, was resumed today.

The investigation, which started yesterday, was adjourned because of the refusal of two witnesses—John A. Boerner, pilot of the ill-fated airship on its last trip, and W. C. Young, local aeronautical expert of the company—to testify on advice of counsel. They are held by the states attorney, while the other members of the crew who had related in detail the events which led to the plunge of the machine through the roof of the bank, were released to their attorney.

Coroner Hoffman is working with a double jury in an attempt to place the responsibility for the deaths, one jury hearing testimony and the other acting in an advisory capacity.

Henry Wacker, surviving mechanician of the disaster, who is suffering with a fracture of the skull, a broken back and fractures of the shoulder and three ribs, said that the fire in the airship was caused by back fire of the motor. He declared that the crew knew of the trouble which was being experienced with the engines and that Chief Pilot Kraft, had refused to go aboard for the final trip.

The dependents of the employes of the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank who were killed, will receive $1,500 insurance, it became known today. Each was insured by $1,000 on a life policy and $3,500 on an accident policy furnished by the bank.

PROHIBITION OFFICER SENTENCED FOR MOONSHINING—IS RELEASED

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., July 23.—Seized by a gang of illegal moonshiners, brought before a Green Brier county justice of the peace, and found guilty on a charge of bootlegging, was the experience of H. R. Ratliff, of Hinton, West Virginia, a state prohibition officer, who returned late yesterday from an investigation tour into the hills. Ratliff was sentenced to serve sixty days in jail by the justice, but was rescued by Harry Fitzgerald, a brother officer, from an alleged moonshiner who was escorting the convicted official to the bastile.

Ratliff and Fitzgerald went into the hills of Green Brier to investigate a report that many illicit stills were in operation there. The officers located two stills and Ratliff went to the village of Auto, W. Va., to telephone the department at Charleston for additional men to take the raid. While in Auto, Ratliff was arrested by the gang of illegal moonshiners at the point of revolvers and brought before the justice, charged with bootlegging, and was convicted.

Following the rescue of Ratliff by Fitzgerald, the officers destroyed two stills and more than six thousand gallons of mash and secured 19 warrants for Green Brier county residents, who are charged with manufacturing moonshine.

SEN. BECKHAM ARGUES FOR LEAGUE

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—Speaking in support of the peace treaty in the senate today, Senator Beckham, Democrat, of Kentucky, urged early ratification without reservations, declaring a majority of the American people favor a trial in the hope that the League of Nations will promote international concord.

"No advocate of this document," Senator Beckham, "can proclaim it perfect. No idealist can safely promise that it beyond all doubt removes the possibility of war in the future. But it at least comes to us with a promise that if given a fair trial, if improved where improvements may be found necessary later on, and if supported by the civilized governments of the earth, it will certainly be a tremendous advantage over all previous plans and one that may in reality fulfill the dream of its most enthusiastic advocates, a world-wide and an enduring peace."

Senator Beckham warned Republican leaders against making the League of Nations a partisan question, declaring it is one which transcends all partisan or personal issues.

"The great common people of this country," said the Kentucky senator, "have seen with remarkable quickness and precision that flaw in the argument of the opposition which suggests no substitute, which proposes no plan, which offers no remedy to protect us in any way whatever from the hideous monster of war. They realize no instrument of this kind can be at once framed and promulgated without imperfections or defects; but they are willing to try it."

Opposition to the treaty because of the Shantung provision, Senator Beckham characterized as "one of the shallowest arguments yet advanced."

"It is one, however," he added, "that appeals to sentiment and to the imagination and the opponents of the league have not failed to play upon that feature of it and to exaggerate its importance in relation to the multitude of far more vital problems which this treaty undertakes to settle.

"I think that under all of the circumstances the peace conference did the best it could in regard to the Shantung issue. Let Japan be given the opportunity to make good her promise to right the wrong originally committed by Germany before we undertake this severe and improper criticism of her."

Senator Beckham said it was surprising that men of distinguished ability should base their arguments on isolation as a means of national safety and "seek to solace us with the shattered delusion that we can maintain isolation or separation from European quarrels, however odious and abominable they may seem to us."

"Nor could Article 10," he continued, "operate to limit or annul the provisions in our federal constitution, which gives congress alone the right to declare war. We, therefore, do not need any reservation upon that article, but we have under the league the protection contained in the requirement of a unanimous vote and the reservation which our constitution provides as to the power of congress to declare war."

Prisoners Are Arraigned

Lawrence, Edward and Am. Cooper, Twin Creek men, charged in indictments with stealing timber and cutting timber unlawfully off the Flagg estate in Nile township, pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Judge Thomas yesterday, and the trio were released on bond pending their trials.

Fred Cooper, who was also indicted for the same offenses has not yet appeared in court to make his plea. Attorney W. R. Sprague will defend the accused men.

Arthur Ratliff, one-legged man, appeared before Judge Thomas in common pleas court yesterday afternoon and pleaded not guilty to an indictment returned against him by the recent grand jury, charging him with intent to kill Herschell Spence. The trouble occurred near the Pentecostal church, East End, on the night of May 10. Ratliff, who is employed by The Watt Furniture Co., was released on $200 bond pending his trial.

Harry Rockhold, New Boston young man, was taken into custody yesterday afternoon by Sheriff E. E. Rickey and brought before Judge Thomas for contempt of court. It was alleged that Rockhold failed to make alimony payments to his wife, Ada, who was recently divorced.

Rockhold told the court that his former wife had agreed not to ask for alimony if he did not appear in court to oppose her suit for divorce. The defendant settled the back payments and was allowed to go by the court.

Mrs. Janey Jones, New Boston woman, indicted by the recent grand jury on a charge of assault with intent to kill Eliza Odle on May 4, last, was arrested and brought before Judge Thomas Tuesday afternoon. The defendant pleaded not guilty and she was released on $300 bond pending her trial.

SCOUT MORRIS WINS TWO MERIT BADGES

Scout Orville Morris, of Troop 1, set a new Boy Scout record, locally by taking two merit badges at the time he became a first class scout. He took the swimming badge and the life saving badge. In the swimming, Scout Morris swam the 100 yards under the most trying circumstances, as the river was full of drift wood which he had to push aside with every stroke.

The life saving feat was much harder to perform. A Scout has to dive from the surface to a depth of 7 feet and bring up a ten pound rock as at this depth the rock gives the average weight of a person who is drowned.

Scout Morris in winning the merit badges caused a great amount of interest in scout circles. Many scouts anxiously await their time for trying for the merit badges and were interested in Morris' success.

Bound For Ft. Leavenworth

Thirteen military prisoners enroute to Ft. Leavenworth passed through South Portsmouth yesterday on a C. and O. troop train. They faced sentences ranging from one year to life. One man was sentenced to 18 years at work for being absent without official leave for three months.

Leg Is Amputated

Friends of Clarence Bromley, popular young N. & W. brakeman, will regret to learn that his left leg was amputated six inches above the knee in Hempstead hospital yesterday by Drs. Hilderman, Hardin and Berndt. He withstood the ordeal splendidly.

On June 27 he was run down by a cut of cars in the N. & W. yards in East Portsmouth. His left leg was broken and his knee cap was crushed but attending physicians were hopeful of saving his leg until complications developed several days ago. Bromley, who is only 21 years old, was formerly employed by the Schwartz Clothing company. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bromley of 2236 Eighth street.

Through a deal closed Tuesday afternoon the Trustees of Allen Chapel church bought the J. H. Goodpaster property at the northwest corner of Twelfth and Waller streets.

The large lot with a frontage of 66½ feet and a depth of 113 feet will be the site of the new church to be erected by Allen Chapel members. It will make an ideal location for this church. It was one of several North End sites that had been under consideration for several weeks.

May Run For Congress

Jonathan S. Dodge, formerly of this city, is being discussed in California as a candidate for congress. Mr. Dodge, who came to Portsmouth from Madison township, was an attorney and real estate dealer in Portsmouth with an office in the old Elk building on Second street. He left here about 18 years ago for New Mexico on account of his wife's health. He later moved to the coast and is now located at Pasadena, Cal. Relative to his nomination, the Los Angeles Times recently said:

"During the past few days there has been considerable talk of the possibility of Jonathan S. Dodge, county supervisor, standing as a candidate for the Republican nomination for congress in the Ninth District. It is asserted that Mr. Dodge would stand not high with stand-pat Republicans; that he would be very acceptable to a large percentage of the progressive wing and the prohibition element of the district, and prominent Democrats declare he would capture many Bourbon votes."

Mr. Flannigan Gets A Shoe Fitters' Diploma

Dan Flannigan, in charge of the shoe department at Mariner Bros. store, has returned from New York City, where he attended a training school for shoe-fitters.

Mr. Flannigan returned with honors as he was one of 61 out of a hundred who received diplomas in correct shoe fitting. The men who attended the school were for the most part expert shoe-fitters, but Mr. Flannigan did not have any trouble in making as good, if not better averages as any present.

Shoes with defects were held before the school and the men had to tell why they were defective. The local man in nearly every instance gave the best answer. His diploma shows how well he knows the shoe-fitting business.

Mr. Flannigan took the complete course, learning not only shoe-fitting but also the scientific end of the business. His nine years in local shoe factories and nine years as salesman fitted him to carry off honors. Shoe-fitters from all over the country were present at the school. It is needless to say that Mr. Flannigan is proud of the showing he made and the diploma he received.
